

GENEROUS OFFER MADE TO SONGHEES TRIBE

Hon. William Templeman Outlines the Situation Showing Where the Trouble Lies in Settlement of Question

A payment of $2,000 to each head of the forty-two families on the Songhees Indian reserve; their removal to another reserve of equal area and as good or better in quality, at the cost of the Dominion government; valuation of and payment for improvements to enable the band to erect equally good dwellings on the new reserve, or construction by the government of residences as good or better instead of paying for the improvements on the old reserve; and the funding of the balance of whatever is received for the old reserve for the benefit of the band.

This is the offer the Dominion government has placed before the Songhees Indians as an inducement to surrender their title to the present reserve, and which has been before the band for a year. Action by them has been delayed on the excuse of another, although Hon. Wm. Templeman has been steadily pressing for an answer and it is still a case of "to-morrow" with the Indians. Under the statutes governing the relations of Canada to its Indian wards it is absolutely necessary that they consent to surrender their title. They cannot be evicted.

If the Songhees remain inactive or refuse to accept the government's offer the ultimate alternative is the amending of the Indian Act so as to give the government power to act in this or similar cases as the best interests of Indians and whites demand should be done here.

Such, in brief, is the position of the famous Songhees reserve question, as outlined last evening by the Minister of Indian Revenue in Victoria West, that section of the capital which is most nearly touched by a situation which affects the entire city. Speaking in Semple's hall to a large and deeply attentive audience, Mr. Templeman went into the history of the reserve, the law governing the matter, the attitude of the Indians towards the offer made them, and his own persistent efforts to effect a settlement.

A great part of what he said was news to the audience, which was greatly impressed by the recital of the facts and expressed its satisfaction with Mr. Templeman's explanation. The records quoted showed that all efforts made, whether under the late or the present government, had been rendered abortive by the Indians themselves, who have steadfastly clung to their homes and refused to consider any propositions.

There is before the band now an offer, the generosity of which the audience last night expressed its sense of, which has been awaiting their action for a year or more, but no meeting has yet been held by the band to consider it. Repeated requests that a meeting be held have been met with characteristic Indian procrastination, which will have to be considered if the band does not accept the offer or takes no action on it, were placed before the meeting by Mr. Templeman and met with their approval. The dominant feeling of the electors present, as expressed by their comments afterwards, was that the offer was a good one, and that the blame for failure is not to be laid at his door.

The chairman, Major A. W. Currie, voiced the feeling of the meeting when he said that after the recital they had listened to no one could accuse the minister of neglecting Victoria's interests.

Not a Political Issue.
"The text I have taken for my remarks to-night is: 'What I know of the Songhees reserve,'" said Mr. Templeman, in opening. "It is not an issue in this campaign. It is not a political question at all, and should not be, but within the last year an attempt has been made to make it an issue. I need not name the papers that have indulged in such questionable and petty attacks on me for my many alleged shortcomings and neglect of Victoria, and particularly which interests the Songhees have not yet been removed from the reserve."

"It is not a political question and I am not going to make it one (hear, hear), but I refuse to permit any Conservative journal or politician to place on my shoulders responsibility I have no right to bear, to blame me and condemn me for taking no interest when I have taken a great and continuous interest and used all my efforts to effect a settlement of this long-pending question."

"I am here to give you some history and perhaps some history you may not already possess. I know there is in the mind of the average Victorian a belief that by some means or other the Dominion or provincial governments or the city council can walk over to the reserve and put these Indians off it without as much as by-your-leave. There seems to be an impression that the Indians have no rights the white man is bound to respect. Now I want to impress on the people of Victoria West and, through them, on the whole city the utter and absolute fallacy of that impression. I will give you a whole lot of hard facts, and every statement I give you and quotation from the large file of papers and correspondence I have with me will be absolutely accurate and true.

"I know this is a local question, affecting your civic interests. There is nothing more interesting to Victoria West in fact no local question interesting the whole city more than that of the Songhees and the possibility of their removal to another reserve. What the Law Demands.
"I first want to give you the law, as laid down in the Indian Act. Dealing with the matter of the surrender of reserves to His Majesty in trust for the Indians, section 28 of the act says: 'No reserve or portion of a reserve shall be alienated or leased until it has been released or surrendered to the crown for the purposes of this act, excepting that in case of aged, sick and infirm Indians, and widows and children left without a guardian, or in the cases of Indians engaged in the practice of any one of the learned professions, or in teaching schools, or in pursuing a trade, which interferes with their cultivating land on the reserve, the superintendent-general shall have the power to lease, for their support or benefit, the lands to which they are entitled.'"

"Eye Opener" Resents Letter
in Daily News Signed
"Nemesis."

(Special to the Times).

Calgary, Alt., Oct. 8.—Daniel McMillan, editor of the Daily News, was arrested yesterday on a charge of criminal libel laid by R. C. Edwards, editor of the Eye Opener. Yesterday the Daily News published a letter signed "Nemesis" painting Edwards in colors not to be envied.

He was described as an immoral creature of the worst type under the caption "The real reputation of a man, very busy blackening characters." Mr. Edwards however could not take his own medicine.

BIG SHOE FIRM FAILS.

Boston, Oct. 8.—Bartels, Thelen & Co., shoe manufacturers, of this city and Chelsea, made a general assignment yesterday for the benefit of creditors. The liabilities are estimated at between $400,000 and $500,000. The amount of the assets is unknown. The firm employs six hundred operatives.

FLEET MIRACLED-ON SKY.

Honolulu, Oct. 8.—A marvelous mirage was witnessed here yesterday, an exact reproduction of the Pacific fleet appearing in the southern skies. The fleet is now approaching this port from Samoa, but its distance from Honolulu is not known.

A TRAGEDY INDEED.

Frederick, N. B., Oct. 8.—The five-year-old son of Archie Lyons is lying at the point of death in the hospital here as the result of receiving a bullet from the weapon to friends. Lyons did not know the gun was loaded.

CARDINAL GIBBONS HOME.

New York, Oct. 8.—Cardinal Gibbons, who attended the Eucharistic congress in London last month, after several visits to the pope, returned from Europe on the Cunard line steamer Caronia yesterday.

ALLEGED INSUBORDINATION.

Hamilton, Ont., Oct. 7.—The huge band of the 12th Regiment has been dismissed by Lieut.-Col. Moore for alleged insubordination.

Lone Bandit Missed Rich Haul

When Holding Up Stage.

(Special to the Times).

Portland, Ore., Oct. 8.—Fifteen hundred dollars in money hidden on the person of Miss Robey, of Coquille, and a thousand dollars worth of diamonds concealed around the leg of Mrs. J. Barnett, of San Francisco, escaped the notice of a lone bandit late last night when he stopped the Myrtle Point-Roseburg stage and held up nine passengers and the driver. All this highwayman got was $25 in money and two fine gold watches and two revolvers.

DEADLY NEWS ITEM.

Kansas Marshal Kills Editor and Follows His Crime by Committing Suicide.

Sabetha, Kan., Oct. 8.—Angered because of a news item printed in the Merrill News yesterday, Perry Royer, marshal of Sabetha, Kan., shot and killed W. J. Schmucker, editor of the News, and then committed suicide. The shooting occurred in the main street at Merrill.

THIRD WALKER TRIAL.

(Special to the Times).
Vancouver, Oct. 8.—The third trial in the Walker case is still going on. A repetition of the former evidence is being heard much of which is being read in the form of depositions made in trial before the late Judge Cane. The trial will probably finish to-morrow.

COSTLY PRIZE FOR CHANNEL FLIERS

FIRST AVIATOR ACROSS
GETS GOLD CUP, $10,000

Wilbur Wright Will Make an Effort to Capture Event.

Le Mans, France, Oct. 8.—Ten thousand dollars and a gold cup now await the first aviator who crosses the English channel in an airplane of any kind heavier than air. Part of the $10,000 is offered by the London Daily Mail and part by a big French champagne firm. The French Aeroplane Society offers the cup.

Wilbur Wright who succeeded in carrying a passenger forty-two miles in one flight says that probably he will soon try a flight over the channel by way of Dover and Gaius. Three other aeronauts are ready for the same test. All will begin their trials within a fortnight. The prize is especially coveted by no one has much chance against Wright.

SCHOOLBOY KILLED DURING STRIKE RIOT

Fight Between Taxicab Drivers and Non-union Chaffeurs
in New York.

New York, Oct. 8.—Robert Quilley, the 14-year-old school boy who was shot last night while standing innocently in front of his home during a clash of striking and non-union chauffeurs, died to-day in the hospital. Robert Stultz, who gave his residence as 60 of the Miles hotels, and Richard Dineen have been placed under arrest in connection with the shooting. Both are said to be special officers of the Taxicab Company, against which the chauffeurs are on strike.

This morning's development in the strike situation, included the stationing of twenty policemen in front of one of the company's garages and six before another, while twenty men in plain clothes were assigned by the police authorities to circulate among the strikers and their sympathizers.

CLINGING TO DERELICT.

Four Men Reported to be Drowned in Wreck of Launch Off Delaware Breakwater.

Leves, Del., Oct. 8.—The steam pilot boat Philadelphia picked up yesterday afternoon, outside the Delaware breakwater, a launch named "Flicker" with two men clinging to the bottom of the overturned craft. It is reported that four men were drowned. The pilot boat returned to sea and the report cannot be confirmed until it returns. A thick fog prevails.

Nanaimo, Oct. 8.—The death occurred last night of Isaac Hood from injuries received yesterday while at work near Nanaimo Bay. Hood was engaged in piling up some logs when one of them rolled over on him, pinning him to the ground and inflicting internal injuries.

STORM CENTRE OF NEAR EAST

SERVIANS CLAMOR FOR WAR WITH AUSTRIA

Want Rights of Bosnia and Herzegovina Restored—
Greco-Cretan Union.

Belgrade, Serbia, Oct. 8.—The clamor for war with Austria-Hungary because of the occupation of Bosnia and Herzegovina is growing here continually and scenes of wild enthusiasm are being witnessed on the streets of Belgrade.

This morning a mob of demonstrators forced its way to the precincts of the palace and demanded to see King Peter. The attitude of the crowd was so threatening that troops and gendarmes finally had to be called out. They surrounded the palace and charged several times before the mob was dispersed. The patriots are greatly dissatisfied with the tone of the protest against the occupation of Bosnia and Herzegovina. They declare it lacks vigor and does not represent the feeling of the nation which would rather go to war than acquiesce in the act of Austria-Hungary. There is a steady flow of telegrams from the interior assuring the government support in the shape of money, men and arms in the event of hostilities.

The Serbian government in its proclamation protesting against the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina, expresses the hope that the powers will respond to the appeal addressed to them for protection and justice.

"This new flagrant violation of the Berlin treaty," the proclamation declares, "has been affected by force to satisfy selfish interests and without regard to the grievous blow thus dealt to the peace, interests and rights of the Serbian people."
"Serbia cannot in this present case obtain full satisfaction by other than a complete restoration of the situation with regard to Bosnia and Herzegovina established by the treaty of Berlin. If this solution is regarded as absolutely impossible, the Serbian government, appealing to the sense of equity of the powers, demands corresponding compensation for Serbia. The guarantees, indispensable to her existence as an independent state, must be maintained and the general condition of existence must, at least in a measure, be restored."

Guerrilla Warfare.

Vienna, Oct. 8.—Information has reached the government that Serbia is planning the organization of a guerrilla warfare in Bosnia and Herzegovina. It is supposed to flood these two provinces with armed bands; Austria is taking precautionary steps to protect her frontier. The railroad tunnel near the fortress of Peterward in Hungary is now held by troops.

The Fremdenblatt, the mouthpiece of the Foreign office, declares that the proposed conference of the powers to discuss the Balkan situation, will not meet with a refusal from Austria-Hungary in principle. Whether or not the invitation will be accepted depends upon the details of the programme.

Emperor's Plans.

Buda Pest, Oct. 8.—Emperor Francis Joseph to-day welcomed in this city the Austrian and Hungarian delegations. Replying to the address of the president of the delegations his majesty referred to recent events and his intention to create constitutional institutions in Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Montenegro's Attitude.

Cettigne, Montenegro, Oct. 8.—A number of citizens' meetings were held here to-day to protest against the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina by Austria-Hungary. The people called on the government to forget the past and invite Serbia to act in brotherly harmony with a refusal from Austria-Hungary in principle. Whether or not the invitation will be accepted depends upon the details of the programme.

Disclaimed From Germany.

Berlin, Oct. 8.—The German Foreign office, taking cognizance of the efforts of London and Paris to make it appear that the German government was in some way responsible for the Bulgarian declaration of independence and the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina by Austria-Hungary to-day repudiated the assertions in their entirety.

The Associated Press was informed that the Balkan situation is on the contrary highly unsatisfactory to Germany.

Crete Joins With Greece.

Constantinople, Oct. 8.—The Greek minister to Turkey to-day presented to the Porte a communication from his government announcing that the people of Crete had spontaneously proclaimed the union of that island with Greece. He assured the Turkish government that Greece was not responsible for the proceedings of the Cretans and he expressed the hope that this action would not disturb the present friendly relations between the two powers. It is feared here that this hope can hardly be realized.

The proclamation of the union of the island of Crete with Greece may not be accepted by Turkey without retaliation. It is reported here to-day that the Turkish government has ordered four of its warships which are at present at Smyrna, to proceed to the island of Samos. These vessels are the cruiser Melic and three torpedo boats.

Powers "Cannot" Object.

London, Oct. 8.—M. Romanos, the Greek minister to Great Britain was officially informed this morning that the people of Crete had requested union with Greece. Commenting on this news

he said that his government would accept the proclamation and give effect to the wish of the Cretans. It could not be supposed, he said, if the powers recognized the independence of Bulgaria and the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina that they would deny their support to the aspirations of the people of Crete.

TWO DIE IN WRECK.

Train Travelling at High Speed Is Precipitated Into Ditch.

Butte, Mont., Oct. 8.—Two men were killed and one injured in a wreck of a Great Northern passenger train at Marian river yesterday.

The dead are: Wm. F. Bainschek, fireman, and an unknown engine wiper. The engineer, Chas. McClintock, was severely injured.

The train while travelling at a high speed struck a soft stretch of roadbed. The engine rolled into the ditch, followed by the baggage and smoking cars.

MANY DIE IN ELEVATOR FIRE

BODIES BURIED BENEATH
PILES OF DEBRIS

Two Women Among Victims—
Loss at Richford, Vt., Over $400,000.

Richford, Vt., Oct. 8.—An explosion of dust in a large grain elevator owned by the Canadian Pacific and located at Boston and Maine railway in this village caused the death of at least thirteen persons late yesterday, and it is possible that the death roll may be still further increased when a careful search of the ruins can be made. Of the victims, eleven were employed in the elevator. The other two were women walking in the Canadian Pacific yards nearby. The known dead are: Herman Lohue, 40 years old, leaves a family; Lucius Wright, 25 years old, married; Robert Mandigo, 22 years old, married; W. C. Barnsley, 50 years old, married, leaves a family; Ralph Haire, 20 years old, single; Herman Miles, 25 years old, married; Charles Narrows, 25 years old, single; Louis Papineau.

On the other hand there is a large portion of the country that can be made to produce forests. The work is being tried now and with good results, the soil producing a rapid growth. In time, therefore, there will likely be a good area of forest in trees. This brought Lord Milner to the need of forests in the Canadian prairies.

"I should suppose," he said, "that the growing of trees would be a necessary thing in the prairies, as mixed farming becomes popular. The planting of trees, I should think, would be for the purpose of protection largely and no so much for the purpose of producing timber."

Visit Was Too Short.

Asked what his impressions of Canada were in general, Lord Milner replied: "My visit has been altogether too short to allow me to properly study a country of such vast extent. Several weeks is all that I am giving to Canada and it is altogether too short a time to properly cover it. It is impossible

Loss Estimated at $425,000.
Richford, Vt., Oct. 8.—(Later)—The ruins of the grain elevator which exploded and burned yesterday causing the death of more than a dozen employees were burning too fiercely to permit a start to be made in the search for the bodies of the victims but a careful canvass among those who escaped indicated that the death list had been increased to fourteen as Elmer Drager a foreman could not be found.

Early to-day the residence of E. H. Price close to the ruins caught fire and was destroyed bringing the total loss from the elevator fire to about $425,000. The walls of the elevator did not fall at night, but the morning breeze shook the charred timbers and just before daylight they tumbled over with a thundering crash and once more the ruins were a mass of flames. No one was injured, however, and all that could be done was to await until the fire burned itself out.

Wrecking crews arrived during the day to clear the tracks adjoining the scene but little progress would be made because of the continued burning of the grain.

LORD MILNER GIVES IMPRESSIONS OF CANADA

Distinguished Visitor Has Formed Very Favorable Opinion of Country—He Expresses His Views on South African Affairs

Lord Milner, who is a guest in the city at the present time, is enjoying his stay to the fullest and he has kind things to say of Canada as a whole, is delighted with what he has seen of British Columbia and in particular thinks Victoria must be a most delightful place to live. As is to be expected from a man of Lord Milner's stamp, his praise of the city lacks everything of a fulsome character. Interviewed at the Empress hotel last evening by a Times reporter he expressed the pleasure that he had had on his trip through British Columbia. The only lament was that he could not stay longer and see more of it.

"I should have liked to have spent considerable time on Vancouver Island, especially," he said. "I have to-day seen some of the timber near to Victoria, but I suppose it is not like the virgin forest. I should like to have had time to see a section of virgin forest on Vancouver Island."

Victoria's Charm.

Then drifting naturally to Victoria in particular the distinguished statesman said: "You have a most delightful city here. It must have great attractions as a place of residence."

The question of forests is a live one with Lord Milner. His residence in South Africa, he says, has taught him the great need of the preservation of forests. "The aridity of a large part of that country is attributable he believes to the destruction of the forests. This was the work of the natives ages ago, and is not to be attributed to the whites, who generally are the guilty parties in forest depletion."

There are vast areas in South Africa he says that can never be covered with forests again. The soil lacks the fertility necessary to produce trees.

On the other hand there is a large portion of the country that can be made to produce forests. The work is being tried now and with good results, the soil producing a rapid growth. In time, therefore, there will likely be a good area of forest in trees. This brought Lord Milner to the need of forests in the Canadian prairies.

"I should suppose," he said, "that the growing of trees would be a necessary thing in the prairies, as mixed farming becomes popular. The planting of trees, I should think, would be for the purpose of protection largely and no so much for the purpose of producing timber."

Visit Was Too Short.

Asked what his impressions of Canada were in general, Lord Milner replied: "My visit has been altogether too short to allow me to properly study a country of such vast extent. Several weeks is all that I am giving to Canada and it is altogether too short a time to properly cover it. It is impossible

DEADLY GAS FUMES KILL SLEEPING MEN

Four Italians Perish in Boarding House Tragedy—Others Found Unconscious.

Waterbury, Conn., Oct. 8.—Flaming gas leaking into sleeping rooms in an Italian boarding house on Bank st., kept by Giuseppe Santore claimed four young Italian men for its victims early to-day and, but for Antonio Demarco who passed by the house on his way home, the dead might have been more than twice that number.

Besides the dead eight men and two women were found either unconscious, or partly so, from the gas fumes which they had breathed in when the police, whom Demarco called, entered the house. One of the women is the wife of the proprietor. All of those still living were taken outside by the police and medical aid was summoned. Four of the affected persons quickly recovered sufficiently to go to the homes of friends, but the others only slowly responded to the doctor's efforts. The wife of the proprietor is still in a hospital.

Baker City, Ore., Oct. 8.—A series of incendiary fires, so menacing that special patrolmen were employed despite which three more happened yesterday and last night, making nine in two days, has drawn the proclamation from Mayor Johns instructing the police and citizens to shoot on the spot any person setting fire to any building.

to comprehend all that is necessary in that time."
Canada in his opinion will always be a more desirable place of residence for the Britisher than South Africa. There are conditions in South Africa that make it less desirable as a place to live in than this country, and he thinks that the British population will always be limited there.

Chinese in South Africa.
The country is settling down, but not as rapidly as he would have liked to have seen it. There was a misunderstanding, he thought, prevailing generally in connection with the introduction of Chinese labor into South Africa. It has been reported that the Chinese were introduced to displace white labor. This was not correct, said Lord Milner. On the contrary, the introduction of Chinese would have increased the number of whites. There is a lot of work in South Africa that has to be done by cheap labor. That was what was aimed at in providing for the bringing in of the Chinese. With the carrying on of the work the number of whites would have had to be increased. There was a provision made that all the Chinese were to be repatriated. This has been done in nearly every case.

The Ideal Settler.
On the subject of the filling up of Canada, Lord Milner showed that he is a true Britisher with a Britisher's conviction, that no race is superior to the British. He said: "I would say that the best settlers that can come in would be British, if they can be got in sufficient numbers."

Continuing on the subject, he thought there might be danger if the foreign elements introduced were of sufficient number to prevent their complete assimilation with the British.

He expressed great admiration for the Canadian constitution. It seemed to be admirably adapted to serve the best interests of the Dominion. The distribution of power among the various provinces, which differed to a considerable extent, was a wise one.

When reminded that South Africa was also working along the lines of federation, he stated that he believed the power then would be more centralized.

In concluding his interview Lord Milner reverted to the advantages possessed by Canada. "You seem to have great advantages; you have the fullest measure of freedom, and at the same time the laws are fully respected," he said.

Lord Milner is being informally entertained at the Union Club to-day at noon. He will leave for Vancouver to-night.

Bank of England.
Discount Rate Continues at 2 1/2 Per Cent.—Weekly Statement.

London, Oct. 8.—The rate of discount of the Bank of England remained unchanged to-day at 2 1/2 per cent.

The weekly statement of the Bank of England shows the following changes: Total reserve, decrease, £25,000; circulation, decrease, £125,000; bullion, decrease, £1,079,542; other securities, decrease, £480,000; public department, decrease, £2,750,000; notes reserve, decrease, £200,000; government securities, decrease, £200,000.

The proportion of the bank's reserve to its liability this week is 105.5 per cent. Last week it was 105.0 per cent.

CONFESSES MURDER OF

HER BROTHER-IN-LAW

Inquest into Death of Well-known Philadelphian—Wife Lodged in Jail.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 8.—It is expected that there will be a speedy trial in the case of Mrs. Catherine Belsel of this city, who is in the Delaware county jail in Media, charged with the murder on Tuesday night of her brother-in-law, J. Clayton Erb, one of the best known men in Philadelphia. The dead man's wife is also in the jail but no charge has been lodged against her.

In the testimony brought out at the inquest last night at which Mrs. Belsel was formally charged with committing the crime, she owned that Erb had been beaten before he was shot. There was a deep cut on his head made by a vase that is believed to have been hurled at him. The most important testimony was that of Thos. Simpson, the constable who took Mrs. Belsel to jail. According to the constable, Mrs. Belsel said: "I shot Capt. Erb. I am sorry for it, but I couldn't help it. He pointed the revolver at me and I took it away from him and shot him."

The trouble which preceded the shooting is said to have been due to a legal paper served upon Mrs. Belsel to keep off the Erb premises.

PUMP BROKE

Steamer Wynerie Had a Rough Time Off Coast of California.

British steamer Wynerie of the Weir line, when bound from Victoria to San Francisco, after taking bunker coal at Comox, had a narrow escape from being wrecked when her circulating pump broke during a heavy northerly encounter off the California coast one day last week. The steamer was helpless in the storm close to the land off Point Pedro, about twelve miles south of San Francisco. Only good luck saved the vessel from going ashore.

After leaving Victoria all went well with the Wynerie until about 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon, when the circulating pump went out of commission. A heavy norther was blowing and the disabled steamer went before it rolling heavily, shipping seas and taking the course set by the tempest.

As the big tramp drifted the black squall rolled in the depths of the engine room to repair the broken pump.

As they told the ship travelled south and by the time the Wynerie's screw began to revolve again the vessel was off Point Pedro, more than twelve miles to the southward of the Golden Gate. The Wynerie was off Noosaville creek when the accident happened and drifted for thirty miles.

Just after noon to-day a report came from Carmanah that something had gone wrong with the steamer Tees, off that point. She was delayed for a short time, but a later message states that she has continued her journey under her own steam.

Mr. Justice Irvine, who has been for some time in England, is now in Toronto en route for Victoria, where he is expected to arrive next month. The judge's many friends will be glad to hear that his health has been much improved by this sojourn abroad.

Steamer Elr, Capt. Murchison, passed out this morning with a cargo of coal, bound for Guaymas. This Norwegian craft made two trips during the summer, the same port, and then was laid off for about six weeks. A few days ago she was rechartered, and the present trip is the result. She is carrying about 8,500 tons of coal.

NOMINATION

Delta, Ont., Oct. 4. South Leeds Liberals yesterday nominated W. C. Freedenburgh for the Commons.

BULGARIA'S ATTITUDE IS GROWING WARLIKE

Paris, Oct. 8.—The Sofia correspondent of the Temps says in a despatch that King Ferdinand has summoned the commander-in-chief of the Bulgarian army in conference. The Bulgarian government considers that the last communication received from the Grand Visier of Turkey is "insolent." The situation is very strained, the correspondent says, and great excitement prevails in Sofia.

BLANCH BOND SWOONS IN VANCOUVER COURT

Woman in Walkem Case Reported to Have Completely Collapsed

(Special to the Times).

Vancouver, Oct. 8.—At close of her renewed cross-examination this morning in the Walkem trial, and while she was being escorted to the hall by the nurse past Mr. Walkem, sitting on her left and Judge Lampman on her right, Blanch Bond suddenly swooned, and fell heavily to the floor. The court officials and Dr. Underhill assisted in carrying the unconscious woman to the hall, from which she was removed to the hospital in a state of complete collapse. Once during her cross-examination she burst into tears and it was some minutes before the examination could be renewed.

The morning session saw the close of the case for the crown. The defence put in the evidence of Dr. Frank W. Hall and Dr. G. Hall, of Victoria, which was taken at the last trial. A conclusion is likely to be reached to-morrow.

NO AGREEMENT ON PRICE OF LUMBER

Coast and Mountain Men Hold an Abortive Conference.

(Special to the Times).

Vancouver, Oct. 8.—The coast and mountain lumber men at a conference failed to come to an arrangement for the re-establishment of a price agreement for the Northwest market. The subject was discussed in its many phases, but the coast men decided that in order to permit some of the large Vancouver mills to work off their surplus of rough lumber it would be impossible for an agreement to be concluded with the mountain mills at this time.

Coast millmen were also approached at this meeting with the proposal that the influence of the B. C. Lumber and Shingle Manufacturers, Ltd., be used to induce the provincial government to extend for a period of three months, from October 31, the permission granted for the export of cedar logs. It was, however, unanimously decided that as the surplus of logs has now been fairly well worked off it would be unwise that the export should be allowed after the end of the present month. The idea of an extension, therefore, was not entertained.

ADDED TO AUTO-DEATH TOLL

Englewood, N. J., Oct. 8.—The second death from the "section" occurred in the hospital here to-day, when Louis Unglich passed away. Suffering a fracture of the skull and concussion of the brain he had but short periods of consciousness since the accident. The crashing of the automobile into the telegraph pole resulted in the instantaneous death of Chas. Welschberger, a wealthy provision dealer in New York City, who was the owner of the machine. The wives of both men were badly hurt but they are reported at the hospital as doing well, while neither is considered to be out of danger.

MEASURING MINUTE DISTANCES

The sensitiveness of the human organism is gross indeed compared with that of the marvellous machines man has made.

A photographic plate coupled with a microscope discovers millions of stars whose light the retina of the eye does not appreciate; the microphone makes the inaudible tread of a fly sound like the tramp of cavalrymen.

The human heat sense cannot realise a difference of temperature beyond one-fifth of a degree; but the barometer, an instrument 200,000 times as sensitive as the skin, notes a difference of a millionth of a degree. A galvanometer flexes its finger at a current generated by simply deforming a drop of mercury so as to press it out of a spherical shape into that of an egg.

The range of impressions which we get from lifting an object is exceedingly small; an ordinary chemist's balance is some million times as sensitive and weighs down the 200 part of a milligram. Without such instruments as these we should know far less about the world than they place within our reach. They make it evident that our sense organs give us reports of but a comparatively small number of comparatively gross stimuli.—Answers.

CHICAGO ANNEXES BASEBALL PENNANT

Four Runs to Two in Favor of Cubs in Great Final Game.

Polo Grounds, New York, Oct. 8.—The final for the National League baseball pennant played between Chicago and New York here to-day resulted in the victory of the former team. The scores were:

Chicago, 4; 8; 0. New York, 2; 5; 1.
Chicago's runs were made in the second, third, and fourth innings while New York scored in the first and seventh.

New York, Oct. 8.—(Earlier)—At one o'clock every foot in the great amphitheatre was taken and hundreds upon hundreds are standing wherever possible throughout the stand. Large numbers brought lunches with them. The air is full of flying lunch boxes, newspapers, and a general spirit of most strenuous hilarity, cheering, horn blowing and geying those who are fighting their way through the aisles. Camera men by dozens from all over the east are making records of a crowd psychology. At one o'clock Doyle, who has been laid up for some time, ran out into the diamond and was greeted with general applause. The home team is now warming up. The conditions are perfect, bright sunshine prevailing. The crowd has temporarily ceased its hurraing and is studying the practice work of the New York squad.

Fatality During Game.

New York, Oct. 8.—Henry T. McBride, supposed to be a New York fireman, fell from a telephone pole trying to get to the Chicago-New York game this afternoon, and was killed.

CATTLE SHIPMENTS GROW

Ireland's Export Trade Shows Increase Over Former Years.

Some interesting figures as to Ireland's extensive export trade in cattle are contained in the annual statement issued by the board of agriculture last year the gross total of the exports of cattle, sheep, swine, goats, horses, mules and asses was 2,055,292. While this amount falls short of the annual average (2,158,953) for the decade ended in 1907, it represents an appreciable increase on the figures for 1905 and 1906, in which years the total numbers shipped were 1,852,432 and 1,803,694 respectively. So far as the export of the principal class of stock is concerned, namely, cattle, the total for 1907 may be considered a satisfactory one, the figure reached in that year—542,066—having been exceeded only twice in the decade. In the sheep exports, however, there has been a decline in recent years. In 1902 the total number of sheep shipped from Ireland reached 1,057,943, while in 1907 653,368 sheep were exported, a decrease of not far from 400,000. The swine exports for 1907 are over 50,000 head in excess of those for 1906, the figures for the two years being respectively 481,907 and 429,430. There were 32,358 horses exported in 1907, as compared with 33,890 exported in 1906—a decrease of 540.

CURIOUS CHURCH VANE

One of the most curious vanes to be seen on a church is that at Great Gonerby, a parish adjoining Grantham, England. It is in the form of a fiddle and a bow, and is unusually large. Its history is a curious one. Many years ago a peasant resided in Great Gonerby, who eked out a modest livelihood by performing on an old violin, which was almost a part of his life. At last he decided to emigrate, and in his last will bequeathed and became a rich man. One day he sent to the clergyman at Great Gonerby a sum sufficient to build a church, and attached to the gift the curious condition that a metal replica of his old fiddle and bow should be on the summit of the edifice. The gift was accepted, and the vane may still be seen on the church.

COINERS' CRIMES

Magazine Articles Responsible for Many of Them—Fewer Coins Seized.

In a British parliamentary paper just issued, are some interesting figures as to the prosecutions instituted by the director of public prosecutions in 1907. There were 429 cases, while 754 applications were otherwise dealt with. From these figures it is seen that the prevalence is given to coin cases.

All mint prosecutions are conducted in England and Wales by the director, and during the period named there was a slight decrease in the number of offences. Of the ninety-five convictions (says Lord Desart in his report) fifty-five were for felony; twenty-two being for making counterfeit coin, eleven for possessing moulds or other implements for its manufacture, three for gilding coin, and one for selling counterfeit coin.

"A grave feature," says the report, "is that in several cases it was suggested as a defence that the offender had been induced to commence the manufacture of counterfeit coin by reading articles in monthly magazines in which the process was fully described and illustrated, and one of the offenders had, in consequence, commenced the manufacture of counterfeit sovereigns on a wholesale scale. A similar explanation has been tendered on previous occasions, and several of the judges have commented in severe terms upon the impropriety and danger of publishing such articles."

Last it should be assumed that the figures above referred to that the making of counterfeit coin as a profession is dying out, it should be noted that of thirty-six persons convicted of this felony twenty-four were arrested and dealt with for the first time, and it is also noticeable that the felony—i.e., charges of making counterfeit coin or uttering counterfeit coin after a previous conviction—exceeded the misdemeanours, that is simply charges of uttering or possessing.

The number of pieces of base coin seized during the year was 7,500, or about 60 fewer than in the year 1907, and terms of penitentiary servitude amounting in all to 145 years were passed. The charges of murder during the

WORKMEN BURIED ALIVE.

Two Perish While at Work in Sewer in Portland.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 7.—Two men, both Russian Finns, were buried alive 50 feet under ground by the caving in of timbers in the Brooklyn sewer between East Sixth and East Seventh streets yesterday. A third victim, Frank Matsen, was buried up to his neck and head, pinned by timbers. A dozen men spent the morning trying to extricate him from his perilous position, while he watched them, still conscious. Matsen was dug out of his perilous position after many hours of toil by a rescue party.

BIG CROWD DOES NOT ARRIVE

FRANK SHEPHERD HAS VERY SLIM MEETING

Dozen Voters and Few Socialists Gather to Greet Conservative Candidate.

Frank Shepherd, the Conservative candidate for Nanaimo, tried to get a meeting of electors at the school house, Oak Bay, last night and the gathering was a representative one. It represented the strength of the Conservative party in that district. The larger section of the schoolroom was used, and fifty additional chairs had been provided for the crowd which did not come. Although the meeting was called for 8 o'clock, at a quarter past three were not half a dozen present. A quarter of an hour later the meeting was called to order with an audience of eleven over and above the speakers. Later in the evening two more residents arrived and a half dozen Socialists from town. These enlivened the proceedings somewhat toward the end, but on the whole the little gathering had neither enthusiasm nor sympathy with the speakers. There was whispering going on nearly all the time the speeches were being made so that it was impossible that they could have been interested.

D. H. Macdonald, the first speaker, had nothing new to say, contenting himself with going over the old ground of criticizing the Liberal programme drawn up in 1895, and blaming the party for not carrying it out in detail. He laid special stress on the fact that the expenditures of the country were too much greater today than in 1895, when the party came into power, taking no consideration of increase in the population of the country in that time.

Mr. Macdonald then went on to show what the Conservatives had done before the Liberals took the reins of government. He told how they had provided cheap transportation in the East by means of canals. He made light of the work on the Grand Trunk Pacific, trying to show that nothing had been done worth mentioning on that railway.

"Conservatism," continued the speaker, "established the backbone of the nation and did it at a cost of only forty million dollars a year. Laurier has, however, done nothing." He denied that the present premier had settled the Manitoba School question or that anything else had been done during the twelve years the Liberals had been in power.

In conclusion he acknowledged that the Conservatives were not very confident, and even stated that they would not say they were going to win.

Frank Shepherd, the candidate, then took the platform. He assured the audience that he would not withdraw in favor of his friend, Hawthornthwaite, and he did not know whether or not Hawthornthwaite intended to do so in his favor. He also denied that he was any longer connected with the C. P. R. by whom he was recently employed, and he did not think the Conservative party on the whole was in league with that corporation.

He laid out his programme as being "better terms, the settlement of the Oriental question, and the purifying of the government." He charged that the constituency was being bribed by promises of telephones and other improvements. He would not even give the present government credit for their immigration policy, but gave all the credit for this to the Canadian Pacific railway. He then entered a plea for the railway, and quoted from Gilbert Hubbard's Philistine to show that the C. P. R. had done wonders for the country and should be well treated. The railway, he argued, had developed the country and the government could take no credit for it.

Speaking of the Grand Trunk Pacific, he tried to show that it would be a disadvantage to the country and nothing but a bill of expense, because new roads and bridges would have to be built to connect with it.

Dealing with the Oriental question, Mr. Shepherd claimed that the $500 tax on Chinese was not prohibitive and should be increased. In order to prove this he quoted figures to show that since the passage of the regulation, one thousand Chinamen had entered the country.

WHERE SAVAGES BEAT US.

The rude, uncultured savage did not sit most of the day in a padded office chair, a carriage or car. His food was not prepared by a chef. He had to hunt for something to eat. And dinner, when he got it, was none too rich.

But the rude, uncultured savage did not suffer from indigestion, constipation, biliousness, headache, as we civilized beings do. Exercise and the amount of fruit and fresh vegetables in his diet, kept liver, bowels and kidneys working right.

None of us want to go back to the days of wigwams and tomahawks, but a lot of us certainly would like to have the digestion of the savages.

We can, by taking "Fruit-a-lives." "Fruit-a-lives" act directly on the stomach, liver, kidneys and skin, and keep these organs in perfect condition. "Fruit-a-lives" bring back lost appetite and sound digestion to the Dyspeptic—regulate the bowels of those who suffer from Constipation—and build up the whole system. LAYMEN'S RALLY IS CONCLUDED

LOCAL CHURCHES TO SUBSCRIBE LARGE SUM

Members Will Raise Five Dollars Per Head for Next Year.

As the outcome of the laymen's missionary movement conference, held here this week and brought to a conclusion last night with a grand rally in St. Andrew's church, the representatives of the different denominations have now practically pledged themselves on behalf of their congregations to a $5 per head contribution from each church member and communicant per annum towards the evangelization of the world. The committee formed on Tuesday night, yesterday returned their report through the chairman of the committee, G. L. Beckwith, who in a short address read its adoption. The report was as follows:

"1. That we heartily approve of the motive and spirit of this great, un-denominational movement, which has as its grand object that Canada should do its share in the evangelization of the world, and therefore we bespeak the cordial sympathy and whole-hearted support of our fellow Christians in Victoria and its vicinity in the endeavor to carry out this great, inspiring and truly national work.

"2. That the financial objective of the churches of this city towards the accomplishment of this work be a contribution of not less than an average of $5 per church member or communicant for the year 1909, and that the aim of all should be in 1910 to increase this amount so that an aggregate sum of at least $25,000 be raised.

"3. That as the best means of accomplishing this end, and to co-ordinate it with our system of giving towards the support of the local churches, we recommend the adoption of weekly contributions.

"4. That a missionary committee of from three to fifteen men be appointed in each congregation to promote the spread of missionary intelligence and to organize a thorough personal canvass so as to secure some systematic offering for missions from every member and adherent of the congregation.

"5. That in all cases, where possible, the date for finishing the active canvass of the churches be November 30th, 1908.

"6. That a permanent co-operating committee of the laymen's missionary movement be appointed for Victoria and its vicinity, consisting of three laymen from each of the various communions. The following are the names of those forming this committee: Dr. W. Russell, Thos. Wood, J. L. Beckwith, A. Lee, A. B. Deaville, J. Baker, H. Baynes Reed, H. S. Croft, H. O. Littlefield, S. Day, T. Frampton, W. Loat, R. W. Clark, W. B. Fisher, A. J. Brice, E. J. Martin, R. C. Howell, Donald Fraser, Geo. Carter, J. E. Andrews, A. C. Mayor.

Prior to the presentation of the report several speakers addressed the assembly. Dr. R. P. McKay, general secretary of the missionary movement opening the evening. He told his audience they had now the idea of the movement plainly before them and were able from the previous meetings to thoroughly understand what the movement called for. The remaining thing required he said, was enthusiasm which once established in work could not be killed. "You can tread down the flowers," said the speaker "but you cannot kill the aroma, and enthusiasm is the aroma of this great work, which is moving under the glorious watchword of 'The world for Christ in the generation.' Christ, John the Baptist, Wesley, Whitfield were enthusiasts, he said, adding "You can answer a man with intellect but not with enthusiasm, for enthusiasm carries all before it. Christ is with the laymen's movement and civilization will be given to the world in this generation or not at all. Many cannot become missionaries, but they can do equally as valuable work in the cause at home. We have the privilege of interesting ourselves in the work which is the greatest of all work and will bring the greatest reward. Put enthusiasm into your efforts and the results will surely be ours. I hope you in Canada will all do your share."

Rev. Mr. Kent likened the proposal to a big joint-stock company in which the most valuable dividends of any enterprise were to be obtained. The stock issue, he said, was unlimited, all could take as much as they wanted, and the rewards and profit were equally abundant. The opportunity was given to all. He called for the best there is in men and said the province benefited more and more through the opening of trade with the Orient, and as the Orientals were evangelized the trade relations would extend and add greater profits to those already obtained financially. Geographically he said Canada was called on to support the movement to the utmost.

J. E. Campbell White thought that a discussion should take place on the question, "We are ready now," he said, "for the frankest kind of an interchange of views on this matter. We recommend without hesitation to this city the enlargement of its missionary contributions. I feel that you at home can now speak better on the matter than I can. Canada provides for 500 missionaries but we want 1000. From you, the $600,000 now annually given must be increased to $2,000,000 which will be $5 per head per church member."

Mr. Ryrie of Toronto, Rev. F. H. Russell of India, and A. J. Brice also spoke.

The representatives of the different denominations present then supported the movement and urged the adoption of the committee's report. The Anglican church representative said that on the return of Bishop Perrin the matter would be taken up in the Anglican church. The report was adopted.

The diseases have been contracted by the movement and the Anglican church representative said that on the return of Bishop Perrin the matter would be taken up in the Anglican church. The report was adopted.

"I do not come before you as an apostle of virtue. I do not think I am better than my fellows. I do not stand in the temple and cry, 'I thank thee, Lord, I am not as that publican Lawyer, or as that extortioner.' (Laughter.) I am a poor sinner. You know it. (Laughter.) But had as I am I can tell you this, that I will not do a mean thing. (Cheers.) I will not take an unfair advantage of an opponent. I will not do a dishonorable thing. I will not do anything for profit or personal gain. (Cheers.) I am proud to say as a Liberal and as head of the government that although we had a session of eight months, there was never a charge brought against the government itself. If we have made any mistake it is that we kept too many Tory officials in the service."—Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

THE SONGHEES RESERVE

The electors and residents of Victoria West, the persons most directly but not exclusively interested as Victorians in the settlement of the Indian reserve question, were last evening given full information in respect of the present status of that very perplexing matter. The Minister of Inland Revenue went into the question very fully, and gave a frank, explicit, and we believe satisfactory, explanation of the difficulties encountered by the department in endeavoring to reach an understanding with the survivors of the once strong Songhees tribe. The culmination of exhaustive negotiations was a most liberal, nay, a most generous, offer to the Indians, involving the surrender of their present reserve and establishment upon a tract of land more suitable for the purposes and requirements of the future of all concerned. It has been found impossible up to the present time to extract a statement from the leaders or responsible heads of the tribe as to whether they are agreeable to transfer under the conditions prescribed. The offer is still open, however, and it may be that wiser counsels will prevail. The government of Canada has, in the past treated its wards with even-handed justice and the very highest consideration. It has always found the Indians reasonable and tractable, and, on the other hand, it has lived up to, in its relations with them, the very letter of its treaty obligations.

But, at the same time, it is evident that in the growth of the population of a country which is now rapidly filling up, new conditions are being created which must be met in a special manner. The case of the Songhees reserve may be taken as an example of what is transpiring elsewhere, calling for extraordinary treatment. Here is a reserve right in the midst of a growing city. It represents conditions which cannot be tolerated in the interests of the Indians themselves or in the interests of their neighbors. If the tribe will not listen to reason and accept the most attractive terms offered by the department—terms exacted at the instance of the Minister of Inland Revenue as the representative of Victoria—then other measures must be resorted to, much though such a course would be regretted by the best friends of the Indians themselves. The reserve must become, and as speedily as possible, a portion of the city of Victoria. The march of events renders such a consummation imperative. It is quite useless for the Indians to set themselves against the inexorable forces of progress.

In the event of the Indians remaining obdurate, two courses are open, as indicated by the Minister in his statement last evening. One of these courses involves an amendment to an Act of Parliament. The leaders of the tribe can accept our assurance that as a last resort the government will not hesitate to adopt such an extreme measure. If they are wise, let them accept the councils of wisdom, agree to the terms proposed by the department, and yield with grace to the inevitable trend of events. We sympathize sincerely with the sentiments of the Songhees—if sentiment be the sole motive which animates them—but they have an opportunity of doing an excellent stroke of business, and they would be well advised to yield to the inevitable with good grace.

THE MEMBER'S RECORD.

Five years ago, owing to the great depreciation of the London price of lead and the refusal of the American Smelting Trust to purchase Canadian ore, the British Columbia lead mine operators found it necessary to close most of their mines. The production had fallen to a meagre 6,000 tons per annum. This was a serious condition of affairs. About $20,000,000 had been invested in the silver-lead mines of the province; $14,700,000 in railways dependent principally upon these mines and their subsidiary industries; $20,000 in the lead smelting industry. Under normal conditions there had been employed in the silver-lead mines and smelters from 2,000 to 2,500 men with a direct expenditure for wages of approximately $2,000,000 per annum. Recognizing the importance of keeping this industry going in British Columbia the Dominion government set aside the sum of $2,500,000 to be paid as a bounty on lead mined and smelted in Canada to extend over a period of five years. The bounty was paid when the price of lead dropped to $12 1/2 on the London market and was automatically reduced as the price rose until it reached $16, when it was altogether extinguished. The five years specified in the bounty legislation expired on June 30th this year, and the sum distributed aggregated $750,000. There remained, therefore, $1,750,000 of the original appropriation.

The effect of the distribution of this bounty was electrical. The production at once increased from 6,000 tons to 12,000 tons, and eventually reached 25,000 tons. The annual average for the five years was 23,000 tons. During last session the government passed legislation extending the payment of the bounty for a further period of five years. Payment is to begin when the price is $14 1/2 on the London market and the bounty will be extinguished when the price reaches $18. This will be a continued stimulus to the industry; it will enable the operators to maintain their production until there is a larger demand for lead in the home market and the United States, when a bounty will be unnecessary. It means the employment of thousands of men, the expenditure of millions of dollars in wages, and prosperous mining camps. Mr. Templeman, as Minister of Mines was the principal factor in bringing about the renewal of the bounty, and for his action received the hearty thanks of the boards of trade and municipal bodies, not only of the interior of this province, but also of the neighboring province of Alberta.

THE UNIVERSITY SCHOOL.

The foundation stone of the new University School was laid yesterday with appropriate ceremonies. The Times wishes the energetic gentlemen at the head of this important Victoria institution every success in their mission. We doubt not that before the lapse of a great many months the various departments of this school, which will be centralized under one roof covering a pile of handsome buildings, a credit to all concerned, and that the noble work which has already been commenced by Messrs. Bolton, Barnacle and Harvey will be continued under more favorable conditions. There is no apparent reason why Victoria should not become in a very short time, given the necessary accommodation, one of the great educational centres of the Dominion. We have the finest climate upon the continent. There is no place upon earth more suitable for laying the foundations of the sound physical constitution which must be a necessary accompaniment of a thorough mental training. If parents who could afford to do so have sent their sons abroad to receive rudimentary instruction, their actions must have been dictated by some scholastic defect, actual or imaginary, in native institutions. It is anticipated that the new University School will therefore supply a long-felt want. We hope it may speedily be completed and equipped—and that it may also prove merely one of the preparatory schools for the University of British Columbia, which also ought to be established in Victoria.

toris, the natural educational centre of the province of British Columbia and of the great West contiguous to the province. If the provincial government but seconds the efforts of private enterprise that is a consummation which may be confidently anticipated.

HUNTING WITH CAESAR.

According to a press dispatch President Roosevelt has given an order for two hundred hunters to be sent to use in his South African big game-killing campaign. That is the proper hunting idea, and again has the president demonstrated himself to be a man of infinite resource. One can picture the stirring scene that will electrify the jungle. First, there will appear a noble-looking Zulu, wearing a necklace of ivory beads and a dignified mantle, mounted upon a zebra. He will have the largest of the trumpets and with a shower of golden notes will inform the denizens of the Africa wilds, to-wit, the majestic lion, the graceful jaguar, the lordly elephant, the beautiful rubber-neck giraffe, the gorilla (image of Standard Oil), the reticulated rhinoceros, the portly hippopotamus, the generous mouthed crocodile and the elongated boa-constrictor, that Mr. Roosevelt is due to arrive. Then there will follow one hundred and ninety-nine Matabele, mounted on ostriches, who will drown the roar of the Zambesi with a fanfare such as even the walls of Jericho never heard, and, lastly, in an armored train, equipped with four 12-inch, two 9.2 inch and several quick-firing pieces of ordnance, the President will appear. From the conning tower Mr. Roosevelt will direct operations. At the sound of the trumpets the aforesaid denizens of the jungle will form in serried ranks and march majestically across the dead line—as advertised in the native journals—chanting "Ave, Caesar Imperator."

There will be a hoarse command from the conning tower, "Photographers adjust your plates. Correspondents take notice. Gunners, Ready! Remember the Maine. Fire." And following the deafening roar of the artillery the majestic lion, the graceful jaguar, the lordly elephant, the beautiful rubber-neck giraffe, the gorilla (image of Standard Oil), etc., will give an ensemble sigh and roll over, dead.

Our friend of the good old days, the Eastern Question, has suddenly become acute. We are told there is no danger in it as far as international complications are concerned—but may we be permitted to express our doubts. It represents another step in the dismemberment of the Sick Man of Europe and the Sick Man has an inconvenient way of kicking the nations in a tender spot.

DR. SVEN HEDIN.

Disguises as a Sheep Driver in Tibet—Narrow Escape.

Some interesting details of Dr. Sven Hedin's recent two years' journey in Tibet are given by the London Times Simla correspondent.

At the outset the explorer met with serious hardships. Snow fell continuously, and the animals began to die, but the Akasi Chin lake was reached in January. Thereafter the difficulties increased: snow, fall, day and night, and the road became obliterated. The caravan was in terrible straits and it seemed hopeless to expect to survive. The lowest temperature, 29.8 Centigrade, was registered on January 15. Dr. Sven Hedin's feet were partly frozen, and all the sheep taken with them for food died. Eventually the party reached Shimenso, where Rawling had been. No sign of life had been seen for 44 days, but friendly nomad hunters now provided the expedition with antelope and sheep.

A march of twenty days to the east-southeast followed. Lanchang lake being passed, several gold fields were seen on this section of the route, but they were deserted, as the miners only work during the summer. Evidence of water channels for washing the gold out of the earth proved that the industry was carried on on a fairly large scale between latitudes 32 and 34. It is reported that a regular staff of Tibetan officials controls the mines.

Explorer's Disguise. Dr. Sven Hedin found it necessary to disguise his clothes and assume the guise of a common Ladakhi, painting his hands and face a dark color. When nomads were met he drove the baggage and sheep as the inferior servant of the nominal head of the caravan. He assumed the name of Haji Baba.

When he entered the Bonpa province, which no European had visited, the precautions were redoubled, as the encampments were constantly watched by Tibetans who were always spying Dr. Sven Hedin, dressed as a shepherd, evaded suspicion, but his position became suddenly critical as a rich old merchant from Lhasa, who controls the whole of the wool trade, grew suspicious, and sent word to the governor. Dr. Sven Hedin was nearly detected making harmonic observations but he saved himself by running towards the hills, pretending to search for a strayed caravan of animals. The governor failed to appear, and the march was diverted to the mountainous country.

Dr. Sven Hedin then discovered Lake Chunlito, following the west shore for a whole day. There he saw caravans of sheep carrying salt, and first heard of the great salt lake of Tabla Takha, which is a source of considerable wealth to the government.

The intrepid traveller discovered the continuity of a great mountain chain 2,000 miles long, where snow and glaciers everywhere bounded the horizon.

SLIPPERS FOR CAVALRYMEN.

French War Department Makes Them Part of Kit.

The decision of the French war department to equip the cavalry with felt slippers for a part of their field kit has interested the civil public more than the strategic or tactical lessons of the great manoeuvres. It had become incumbent upon Gen. Denigres as the leading authority among the orthodox warriors to defend the cavalry as a modern weapon against the Radicals, who would eliminate horse troops as superfluous in the days of mechanical traction and plentiful roads; but at the manoeuvres just closed, officers, who witnessed the Manchurian campaign, and who saw what a physical and moral asset was the use of straw slippers among the Japanese cavalry, whose methods were virtually those of mounted infantry, expressed enthusiasm.

"They say that their freshness as the result of wearing these slippers after a few hours' rest was astonishing."

Special Purchase Men's Suits and Overcoats

On Sale Friday and Saturday

This lot of Suits and Overcoats were made to the order of a certain firm. For reasons of their own the makers did not care to deliver them, and having the garments on their hands they were glad to accept our cash offer for them. The prices we paid were considerably below the regular figure, so that you can come prepared to get some good values in Suits, Overcoats and Raincoats for Fall and Winter. The garments are all very newest styles and cloths, and cover quite a range of prices, all of which are very special values, considerably below what you would usually have to pay. Money saved, is money earned and you cannot earn five to twelve dollars any easier than by saving money on these garments.

New Fall Suits at $6.75, $9.75 and $12.50.

The suits are all new styles and new cloths, single and double breasted cuts, some with the nobby long lapels and cuffs now so much worn. The garments are particularly well made and finished in the best possible manner. The cloths are fine tweeds and worsteds, in medium and dark colors and shades that are most wanted. Don't make the mistake of thinking that these are old styles or undesirable goods. There is nothing newer or more up-to-date to be had at any price, and every one of these suits is exceptional value at the prices marked.

Overcoats and Raincoats at $10.00 and $12.50

Different lengths and styles, just what the fashion world says is right. Raincoats, full lengths, in cravenette and heptonette in different colors, also dark tweed effects, in waterproof cloth. Overcoats in a good assortment of medium and dark, heavy weight tweeds and in black and colored meltons, heavers, vicunas and other cloths that are heavy and comfortable for winter wear. The coats are splendidly made, having the new cut and that swing and snap that every man likes to see and likes to have. You will be astonished at the goods we can offer you at these special prices.

Title was given this morning by the Chief Justice to Mrs. Pelletier to a lot held by her on Discovery street. The lot was purchased by the Steitz estate at a tax sale 27 years ago, and taxes have been paid on it ever since. Some years ago the lot was leased to the Hansen estate, and taken over from them by J. Haggerty. When the matter of acquiring title was advertised, three or four months ago, Haggerty put in a claim, although he had paid neither rent nor taxes on the place. J. C. Walls appeared for the plaintiff and R. T. Elliott, K. C., for Haggerty.

RALPH SMITH IS TO MEET ELECTORS

Political Gathering Will Be Held at Boleskin School House.

There will be a public meeting held in the Boleskin road school house this evening in the interest of Ralph Smith, the Liberal candidate for Nanaimo district. In addition to the candidate John Oliver, M. P., and N. L. Drury will address the gathering. The meeting will open at 8 o'clock.

Quite a number are going from the city. The school house is only a few minutes' walk from the end of the Douglas street carline.

YOUNG BOYS BROUGHT BEFORE MAGISTRATE

Remand Granted and Accused Released on Heavy Bail.

Robert Gibbons, aged sixteen and a half, and Paul Medina, aged fifteen, were charged in the police court this morning with robbery of jewelry valued at $50 from the residence of William Mead, 664 Dallas road, on about the 3rd of September. Seated alongside the boys in the dock was the third lad of the trio arrested Tuesday night, James Watson, aged sixteen. Watson was, however, not included in the first charge read this morning but is implicated in several other robberies with which the boys are charged.

The three were remanded until Saturday in bail of $2,000 and two sureties of $1,000 each. All three were represented at the barrister's table, Watson and Medina by W. Moresby, and Gibbons by a relative. The prosecution asked for a remand, which was opposed by legal representatives of the boys. Both thought that the confinement in jail would tend to harm the lads morally and would give agonizing thoughts and hours of pain to their relatives who would be presented with the thought of the children behind jail bars at night.

Mr. Moresby said without prejudice that the cases under his direction would probably be taken on to a high court for the purpose of obtaining the utmost leniency for the boys. He offered on behalf of the parents of the lads full restitution of all the missing goods and thought with the boys out on bail an effort could be made to more successfully recover the goods stolen. The value of which it is understood the police, as near as a computation can at present be made amounts to close to $2,000.

In all there were five charges read against the prisoners, three against Medina and Gibbons and two against Watson. Gibbons and Watson. It was put forward that the boys have already helped the police in tracing the stolen goods and Gibbons' mother is stated to be in a state of prostration through the arrest of her son.

When the court opened there was a rush by a large crowd to gain places of advantage in the court room. These, however, were disappointed in their attendance as the court was ordered cleared of all except those interested in the case and the relatives of the prisoners. The boys were brought into court after the clearance and placed in the dock, where they sat, until called in a perfectly composed manner, apparently unaware of the seriousness of their positions.

The list of goods enumerated in the five charges read this morning contained an abundance of valuable jewelry of all kinds and several revolvers, the five charges, which are but a portion of the robberies reported, accounted for goods to the value of over $200. Detective Palmer wishes a public announcement made that the police hold a gold monogram watch, a portion of the recovered goods, which so far has been unclaimed and lies at the police station awaiting the owner's appearance.

NO BOXING CONTEST.

Warburton's Work Will Not Permit of His Entering the Ring.

In reply to Merryfield's challenge Warburton this morning called at the Times office and made the following statement: "I am sorry I cannot oblige Merryfield as I do not wish to take part in public boxing matches. It would interfere with the work I have now taken up. I am at present instructor to the Y. M. C. A. and several other classes in the city. Apart from other considerations the work would prevent me from finding time to fit myself for the match. I also think that the public might look on a match between us with some suspicion as Merryfield was my trainer at the time I was arranging for my bout with Saunders which did not take place. Under the circumstances Merryfield will see that I cannot take on the match."

The offerings from the Episcopal churches of the city for the building funds of the Home for the Aged and Infirm have been sent and amount to $82.

John Henderson was charged in the police court this morning with supplying an Indian woman with liquor. The police were called last night to a row in a shack on Store street, where they found two men and the woman. As there was some doubt in the mind of the magistrate as to which man had supplied the liquor to the woman, Henderson was let off with a fine of $5 on a charge of being drunk.

The first rehearsal of the oratorio, St. Paul, was held last night in the school room of the First Presbyterian church, under the direction of J. G. Brown. A splendid rehearsal was obtained for the first time, although the attendance was not as large as expected, owing to the many other meetings, etc., now being held. The vocalists of the city are cordially invited to assist in this work, and will be warmly welcomed by Mr. Brown, the conductor. Rehearsals will be held in the same place every Wednesday evening.

FIRE CHIEFS ASK AMENDMENTS TO LAWS

Messrs. Deasy and Foote Wait on Government To-day.

Chief Thomas Deasy, of the Nelson fire department, is in the city renewing acquaintances. He has been attending the meeting of the fire chiefs at New Westminster. In company with Chief Foote, of Revelstoke, the Premier and the Provincial Secretary were seen this morning and asked to amend the statutes so as to lessen the danger from forest fires, and to ensure the public safety by more stringent regulations with respect to fire escapes.

The government asked that the proposition should be put forward in detail, which will be done and will then receive consideration.

JOHNSON CONFIDENT

HE WILL BEST BURNS

Crowd of English Admirers See Black Fighter Off for Australia.

Extraordinary interest has been aroused in sporting circles in the Old Country in the forthcoming match at Sydney, for the boxing championship of the world, between Tommy Burns and Jack Johnson. The announcement that the colored champion was leaving London one afternoon recently by the train for Dover on his way to Marseilles, where he will board the Ortona for Sydney, attracted a large crowd to Charing Cross.

Johnson, on arriving, was greeted with cheers, and he was literally mobbed by his admirers. After some difficulty the police forced their way through the crowd, and formed a protecting guard from the too enthusiastic demonstrations of the crowd.

The distribution of five hundred autograph tickets, the owner of the one bearing the exact number of rounds the fight lasts being entitled to receive $25, was the occasion of remarkable scenes. Men struggled to obtain possession of the slips as Johnson threw them among the crowd, and a good deal of disorder prevailed. Eventually Johnson was escorted to the departure platform, where only a privileged few were allowed to follow.

In the course of an interview with a representative of the Pall Mall Gazette Johnson said he was looking forward with great eagerness to the match with Burns. "I am confident," he said, "of being able to beat him. It will be a fast fight, for I shall lead immediately, so that if Burns wants to hold back he won't be able to. I think I shall be able to stop him in twelve rounds. I don't think Burns can knock me out. His hitting powers are great, I know, and though I may receive some punishment, it will not finish me."

"I am very sorry," Johnson added, "the fight is not taking place in England, because more importance would be attached to the result. I expect everything in Sydney to be under the fairest conditions, but I know that if the fight took place in England there could never be any doubt about it. I have received nothing but kindness during my visit to this country, and I am sorry that I have to leave it so soon. I shall return early in January to be in readiness for my match with Sam Langford in February at the National Sporting Club."

ATHLETICS.

ALFRED SHRUBB.

Aged twenty-nine, height 5 feet 7 inches, weight 118 pounds, are the physical qualifications of Alfred Shrubbs, who is said to have challenged the Marathon winner in three races, of ten, fifteen, and twenty-five miles. Add to these an infinite capacity for taking pains, and taking them quickly, and unbounded courage—any you have the man who is said to be the greatest runner that ever lived. Shrubbs has been on the path for about ten years, and during that time he has accomplished some remarkable performances. Among them are these: Eleven miles in 48 min. 25 2-5 sec.; ten miles in 45 min. 40 sec.; nine miles in 43 min. 25 2-5 sec.; eight miles in 40 min. 16 sec.; seven miles in 35 min. 4 3-5 sec.; six miles in 29 min. 59 2-5 sec.; five miles in 24 min. 35 2-5 sec.; four miles in 19 min. 23 2-5 sec.; three miles in 14 min. 17 2-5 sec.; two miles in 9 min. 9 2-5 sec.; 1 1/2 miles in 5 min. 47 2-5 sec.; 1 1/4 miles in 5 min. 7 2-5 sec.; 2,000 yards in 5 min. 7 2-5 sec.

His distance for one hour is 11 miles 1,137 yards, most of it covered in strides of five feet 2 inches in length.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

A NEW ZEALAND SAMPLE.

A good deal is heard nowadays of the rough tactics at times adopted by some football players. Apparently, however, the game under the Rugby code, as played in Canada and the British Isles, is a milk-and-water pastime as compared with the game in some parts of New Zealand. This is how the Sydney Bulletin describes it:

"Rugby, as played in some parts of Maeriland is a fearsome game—for the players. For the spectators it is thrilling—joyous thrill. To see a crowd of hard-shouldered bar-barers speculating as to whether an injured combatant has received a fractured skull or merely had an ear torn off, what time the doctor, who invariably lights a cigarette, ambles placidly over the field, is not a sight for the gods."

The Melrose team has won the Wellington championship this season—per medium of seven good boosters and a "layer out." The latter is a star artist in his line. The crowd looks to him to supply the thrill, and he does it. His duties are comparatively simple. Following close up to the charging forwards, he springs on an opponent who has just lost the ball.

"His favorite tackle is left arm round the neck, right hand across face. When the opponent is on the ground a well-propelled boot does the rest. The referee, with one eye on the ball, and 'other on the seven charging forwards, fails to observe the 'layer-out'."

At the end of the match, the Anglo-Weishmen, after witnessing Melrose defeat Oriental, inquired what the Rugby death-rate was in Wellington. But the crowd gets its thrill, and the Union the prizes. And for the players—there's the ambulance."

MAY BUILD YACHT TO COMPETE FOR CUP

Commodore of Royal Canadian Club Will Head Syndicate.

In connection with the challenge issued by the Royal Canadian Yacht Club, of Toronto, for the Canada cup, the Toronto papers announce that if the challenge is accepted it is understood that Commodore Dr. Macdonald, of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club, will head a syndicate to build a boat for the purpose. Plans have not yet been completed, but as the boat being built by Dr. D. Mann is to represent the all-Canadian idea, it is possible that the Macdonald syndicate boat will be designed after the Old Country and be built either there or by Captain Andrews at Oakville.

It is thought in the east that the Rochester Yacht Club directors will not act definitely on the challenge until the challengers entirely waive the right of fixing the class of boat. Eastern papers say there is a chance that the Rochester club will depart next year from the 27-foot class, but will adhere to the Seneca style, which caused so much trouble last year. No time is being lost in early plans for a defending boat, and while Rochester yachtsmen are not at all of the Canadian stipulation as to the class of boat, there is no serious thought of forfeiting.

JIMMY BRITT TIED UP WITH SUMMERS

Moran Passes Up Feather-Weights and is After Nelson.

London, Oct. 7.—Jimmy Britt, of San Francisco, former lightweight champion, and Johnny Summers, one of the best little men in England, were matched yesterday to fight ten rounds at Wembley, November 2nd. They battle for $5,000, 75 per cent, going to the winner, remainder to the loser.

Britt has just arrived after a long tour of the Continent. He says he wants to show London sporting people what he can do and is willing to bet $5,000 he can beat Summers.

Summers recently returned from the United States. He says he will surely knock Britt out. Both men start training at once.

RUGBY FOOTBALL. AUSTRALIANS WIN.

The Australian Rugby team has now three wins and no losses to their credit in the old country games, the latest report to hand being their win against Gloucestershire. The score was Australia 14, Gloucestershire 9.

GOLFERS ASSEMBLE AT PORTLAND NEXT WEEK

Teams of Eight From Coast Cities to Compete for Trophy.

None, or 14th has been selected as the date for the commencement of the annual northwest meeting of golf players which will take place at Portland on the Waverly links for a challenge cup valued at $500. The Portland people expect to have the greatest gathering of golf players in Portland for the tournament that has ever assembled on the Pacific Coast.

The conditions of the tournament are that there shall be eight players from each club entering the competition. The visiting clubs will be from Tacoma, Seattle, Spokane and Victoria. Vancouver has been mentioned in connection with the event, but as the golf club there has been recently formed and has not yet entered the Northwest Association it is thought locally that the Terminal City will not have representation. The prize at the tournament is the most valuable golf trophy west of the Rockies.

At Portland the elimination trials for the selection of the representative eight are now in progress. The series are being played off on Saturdays, and will be completed by the end of this month. No decision as to the composition of the local team which will make the trip is yet made.

THE GUN.

FISHERMAN GETS BIRDS.

E. A. Harris last Saturday went fishing at Somers lake and returned with thirty birds, made up of twenty-nine mountain quail and a cock pheasant. He has the laugh on the score of sportsmen who have been out with guns this season and returned without a bird. While on the water Mr. Harris sighted a dark patch at a distance, and upon rowing to it found the thirty birds floating on the water. Sunday morning he made a second trip with the object of more sport but secured only bird only. None of the birds bore shot marks and the manner in which they got into the water is a matter of considerable speculation.

BRIGHTMAN OUT OF GAME FOR GOOD

James Bay Forward Retires as Result of Saturday's Accident.

Brightman, the James Bay forward, is out of football for good and the Bays are casting about their coming material for a player to take his place on the forward lines. Brightman's knee, which he put out of joint in the soccer game Saturday between the Bays and Victoria West at Oak Bay, is in such condition that it will prevent him from again taking part in any game this season, and will probably make it unsafe for him to get into the game again next year. The retirement of their star forward will mean a big loss to the Bays on their forward lines and his place will take some difficulty in filling.

Brightman, who has been confined to his room through his accident, is now about again, but is unable to take any active exertion and acting on his physician's advice will enter no sport again in the near future.

CEDAR HILL VS. BAYS.

For the match Saturday between the Bays and Cedar Hill to be played at Clarke's field, Oaklands, the following teams have been selected.

Cedar Hill—Goal, Holmes; right back, Rev. A. Colison (capt.), left back, V. Winkie; right half, T. Hill; centre half, Dawson or McMoran; left half, Thompson. Forwards, Tombs, Scott, S. Macdonald, Newman, and Jones.

J. B. A. A.—Goal, R. Peden; back, Lawson, and Lorimer; half backs, Kerch, Johnston and Banks; forwards, Dakers, Stall, Peden, J. Lorimer, Todd. The Bays are to meet at Yates street corner at 2.30 p.m., Saturday.

BASEBALL.

BELLINGHAM TO TOUR.

At a meeting of the senior V. M. C. A. class in Bellingham a few nights ago the first steps were taken to organize a basketball tournament, and Carl Grue, Ed Harris, Ole Pernell, and E. Carver were elected by the squad as captains. Carver chose Anderson, Strong, Macbeth, Chapman, Eggleston, and Robinson, Grue chose Earlywine, Joe Anderson, Zander, Black and McCullough, Pernell chose Horn, Wyman, Hughes, Brown, Cottingham, and McNair, while Ed Harris chose Edwards, Pierson, Nolte, at field and Sebride.

Director Wilson intends to keep a close tab on all the players and the ones making the best showing will be slated for the first Y. M. C. A. team. As the first team has splendid prospects of touring Western Canada, Washington and Northern Oregon, all the players will work hard to make the team.

VANCOUVER WINS.

Vancouver, Oct. 8.—In the baseball game yesterday the score stood, Vancouver 3, All-Stars, 2.

TRADES AND LABOR DELEGATES REPORT

C. Sivertz and W. H. Gibson Outline Business Done at Halifax.

The Trades and Labor Council met last evening when the principal business consisted of the receiving of a report from the delegates of the local body to the Trades and Labor Congress that met in Halifax. The delegates were C. Sivertz and W. H. Gibson.

The council also took up the question of the resignation of A. Johnson as assistant caretaker of the post office. In view of the fact that there were some delegates who held that the resignation had not been voluntary, a special committee was appointed to go into the subject.

On behalf of the labor day audit committee a report was presented verbally. Secretary Argyle, of the labor day committee, handed in a financial report giving in detail the receipts and expenditure.

It was decided that with the consent of the donors the tombola prizes unclaimed should be divided between the Orphans' and Old Ladies' and the Old Men's Homes.

Several other items of business of a routine character were transacted. The report of the two delegates to the Trades and Labor Congress, C. Sivertz and W. H. Gibson, was as follows:

To the Officers and Members of the Trades and Labor Council.

Friends and Fellow Workers,—I hereby wish to submit the following report on behalf of myself and Mr. Gibson as your representatives to the twenty-fourth annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress, which met in the city of Halifax on the 1st day of September, 1908. I take great pride in stating that, by their enthusiasm and devotion to the labor movement, the unionists of Victoria carry off, by all odds, the honors in representative strength in the congress, when comparison is made of size and distance. Our having sent two delegates, while the proud commercial metropolis of our province was represented by one delegate only. From a representative point of view the gathering was a complete success, the maritime provinces being obviously strongly represented, while the western provinces sent a strong and influential contingent.

Lasted Five Days.

Besides the address of welcome by the Hon. J. Murray, premier of Nova Scotia, and R. Crosby, mayor of the city of Halifax, the convention was addressed by Rev. M. Shearer, secretary of the Moral Reform Council of Canada, and J. Keir Hardie, M. P., who attended the sessions of the congress as honorary visitor. H. Frayne, fraternal delegate from the American Federation of Labor, delivered a splendid address dealing largely with the educational and humanitarian aims of the labor movement on the North American continent. His exhaustive exposition of the benefits conferred on the people at large, both in and out of the trades unions is another link forged in the chain that binds us in a common fraternal brotherhood.

The deliberative work of the congress was completed in nine sessions, distributed over five days, the attendance of delegates being full and even. The writer of this had the good fortune of attending all the sessions, besides acting on the committee on credentials.

The tone and character of the discussions throughout the convention were fully up to the mark of previous congresses, and, sustained, in a marked degree, the reputation the leaders of the labor movement in Canada have already established, namely, a conspicuous ability to make a brilliant and statesmanlike exposition of the labor cause.

Motion Defeated.

The subjects on which our delegates were instructed by the council were fully introduced in the form of resolutions, with the exception of the matter relating to an independent legislative action, which was proposed in the following motion:

Moved by C. Sivertz, of Victoria, B. C.: "That a special committee be appointed for the purpose of considering ways and means by which the Trades and Labor congress of Canada can best strengthen the growing sentiment in favor of independent legislative action on behalf of the working class."

The motion was duly seconded and after a short debate the delegates in convention taking the view that, according to resolutions passed at the Victoria convention, political action on behalf of, or by the working class, so far as the congress is concerned, is in the hands of the working people, separated from and outside of the trades union movement, which is the only sphere within which the actions and activities of the congress lie, as a non-partisan body, seeking and influencing reform legislation from any party in power, regardless of its political names or affiliations.

Membership Growing.

The report of the secretary-treasurer, Mr. Draper, showed an increase in the membership of 7,731; the receipts from per capita tax showed a membership of 40,726, representing $28 directly affiliated unions; the revenue has grown from $611 ten years ago to $5,904.46, with an expenditure of $7,442.00, leaving a balance of $1,462.46 at the end of the financial year. Twenty-two international trades unions are now paying per capita tax to the congress on their Canadian membership.

The election of officers took place at 3 p.m. on the fourth day of the convention and resulted in the re-election of the executive council, namely, president, Alphonse Verville; vice-president, James Simpson; secretary-treasurer, P. M. Draper. The election of the executive for British Columbia resulted as follows: Vice-president, R. P. Pettipiece, Vancouver; W. H. Gibson and C. Sivertz, of Victoria, and R. A. Stoney, of New Westminster. P. M. Draper, of Ottawa, secretary-treasurer of the congress, was elected fraternal delegate to the American Federation of Labor, while the city of Quebec, P. Q., was selected as the place of meeting.

Resolutions Introduced.

In accordance with the instructions issued by the council previous to the departure, your delegates introduced the following resolutions, the convention deciding as noted below:

Introduced by Delegate Gibson, instructing the executive council to introduce into parliament legislation providing for same. Carried. Change introduced in the name of the congress, introduced by the same delegate, to that of the "Canadian Federation of Labor." Incorporated as the National Trades Congress of Canada had by a resolution to that effect changed its name at the annual convention held by that body in the city of Quebec, about a week previous to the holding of the Trades and Labor Congress, adopting the very name that your instructions embodied, the committee on resolutions reporting unfavorably. Your delegates accepted the report.

Delegate Gibson also introduced the amendment to paragraph 9 of the platform of principles, making same read: "Exclusion of all Asiatics," which was carried unanimously. Resolution declaring in favor of total exclusion of all Oriental races, as well as one condemning the policy of assisted immigration, introduced by the writer, were, in common with a number of other resolutions on the same subject, embodied in a substitute, drafted by the committee on resolutions, which was deemed satisfactory by the several movers. Needless to say that the covering resolution pronounced strongly in favor of the views presented by your delegates.

A resolution regarding free school books was unanimously carried, with an amendment in reference to land-use, so that same should be asked for where such provision would apply.

A resolution recommending that steps be taken to establish closer relations between organized labor in Great Britain and Canada was also introduced by the writer. The committee on resolutions requested explanations as to what specific steps were desired. Your representative stated the intent of the resolution to be to have any steps taken that promised fuller participation in, and better understanding of, our common good. Any step that, consistent with the international trades union autonomy and the drawing together of the working people of Great Britain and Canada. The chairman of the committee, by way of reply, informed your delegates that the executive council purposed to continue Mr. Trotter in his present position as a special agent to the people of Great Britain. The reply was accepted as entirely satisfactory, on which understanding the resolution was reported favorably and carried.

Subsequent to the arrival of your delegates at Halifax a telegram was received containing a resolution which the council desired us to submit to the convention to the effect that the executive council be instructed to urge the government to appoint as local correspondents only persons that were endorsed by the central bodies, where such exist, or by the labor unions in the respective localities. Same was duly introduced by the writer and was, after short explanation, carried unanimously.

Salvation Army Immigration.

By a special arrangement, at their request, Colonel Lamb, Superintendent of immigration in Great Britain, and Colonel Howell, superintendent of immigration in Canada, appeared before the convention for the purpose of explaining to the delegates the system of immigration in Canada, as well as the methods used in selecting prospective emigrants in the United Kingdom. Accordingly, at the opening of the second session, on the first day of the convention, the two gentlemen referred to appeared before the congress. Mr. W. R. Trotter, special representative of the congress in Great Britain for the past several months, asked leave to read his report before the representatives of the Salvation Army were heard, giving a reason for this request that certain important references of the two distinguished gentlemen in the statements and questions that followed was something remarkable and at times quite dramatic. Every argument, explanation or excuse they attempted to give in defence of the Army's immigration and colonization schemes, so far as Canada is concerned, was promptly met with refutation and carried away, as the morning mist disappears before the penetrating rays of the sun in June, so all the opposition and claims of the Army officers were dissolved to nothing before the enthusiastic and overpowering logic of the delegates, both on ethical and economic grounds. The whole enterprise was condemned as an unjustifiable traffic for profits that reflected unfavorably on the religious mission of the Army, as a denomination, had set out to fulfill its original intention. The general condemnation was in every particular supported by specific proofs. Mr. Trotter's report furnishing such undeniable data and proofs of a general emigration and colonization scheme that little, if any, seemed to be lacking. It is only just to state, in connection with this, that Mr. Trotter has given proof of exceptional qualification for the great and often delicate task that he has accepted for and on behalf of the working people of Canada. The labor movement in this Dominion of ours can, and ought to be congratulated on, having secured the services of such a conscientious, tactful and energetic ambassador to represent us among the British working people, and who will, if given an opportunity to do so, succeed in establishing relations of fraternity based on a recognition of a community of interests.

The Lemieux Act.

The act providing for the establishment of a board of investigation and conciliation, and commonly referred to as the Lemieux Act, came in for a most lengthy and earnest consideration. Delegates representing trades directly affected by its provisions, with few exceptions, made a peremptory demand for its unconditional repeal, characterizing it as a failure and delusion. A substitute for the resolution to repeal the act was finally agreed upon, the parties for and against the act accepting same as satisfactory all round; the substitute providing to the following effect:

1. Amendments to the act may be

Great Reduction on Tires

We have just received a shipment of tires, which we are offering at an extraordinarily low figure, as follows:

3. In the event of the government failing or declining to accept the amendments, the executive council will refer the matter of repeal to a referendum vote of the entire membership of organized labor, as represented in the affiliated or chartered bodies. The majority of such referendum vote to be an instruction to the executive council.

The Strike on C. P. R.

A special committee was appointed during the convention to consider the strike on the C. P. R. The committee drafted a telegram, which was approved and forwarded to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, expressing the regrets of the congress at the continuance of the strike and the hardships caused thereby, and recommending the appointment of a committee for the purpose of endeavoring to bring the parties together and effect a settlement. The prime minister, in his reply, pointed out that a board of investigation and conciliation had already been appointed, that full investigation had been made; that while he deeply regretted the strike with the losses and hardships it meant to the men, the company and the public, yet he had no power to refer the matter to a committee or commission as suggested by the congress. He stated that the adjustment of the dispute; that he had forwarded a copy of the telegram containing the views of the congress on the matter to the parties at interest and was awaiting their reply. A telegram to the same effect was sent to R. L. Borden, a reply to which had not been received before the adjournment of the convention. A motion endorsing the position taken by the employees of the C. P. R. in the present crisis, and recommending all affiliated organizations to render such moral and financial support as they can, was carried.

The convention decided, by a unanimous vote, to invite all affiliated organizations to pay an amount, about ten cents per member, for the purpose of defraying the expenses of a special agent to Great Britain. The decision of the Winnipeg convention having met with such remarkable success as to fully justify the cost.

Express Indignation.

The telegrams referred to elsewhere in this report relating to a resolution re local correspondents to the Labor Gazette, also contained a request from the council to the effect that your delegates nominate and promote the elections of Mr. Wm. McKay, the president of this central body. The telegram was officially confirmed by a letter received the day before the election of officers, simultaneously a letter to the same effect was received by the secretary of the congress and read out in the convention. A third letter was also received by an influential delegate from Ontario, requesting him to nominate Mr. McKay. Your delegates were at first disposed to do what they could in compliance with the request. But the letter to the convention, and especially the one to an individual delegate, commissioning him to nominate your choice, convinced your representatives that they had been judged and condemned without a hearing. That, without any sound reason, you had withdrawn your confidence from them and appointed an agent from another province over their heads, to champion your cause, branding your own delegates as not possessed of sufficient common honesty as to be trusted to make known at least your expressed wish. In view of what they did not feel bound to exert themselves in favor of your nominee.

The social functions in connection with the convention were as follows:

Monday evening, the first day of the convention a reception and social gathering in the city hall.

Tuesday afternoon, an excursion on the Northwest Arm and harbor, under the auspices of the proprietors of one of the daily papers of the city. In the evening a public meeting, under the auspices of the local branch of the Canadian Labor party, in the largest theatre, addressed by J. Keir Hardie and others.

Wednesday afternoon, a proposed car ride through the city was abandoned on account of the pressure of work. In the evening delegates were entertained by the union of their craft.

Thursday, a banquet in Hotel Halifax. All of which is respectfully submitted.

TRANSPORTATION IS SERIOUS PROBLEM IN U. S.

Problem of Canal From Great Lakes to Gulf of Mexico.

Chicago, Oct. 8.—A picture of days when stately ships shall carry the products of the central states from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico through a deep waterway, returning with products of no less value, was conjured up to-day before the visitors to the third annual convention of the Lakes-to-the-Gulf deep waterway association, by Wm. H. Afton. Yesterday's utterances were authoritative, for they came from Secretary Vandenberg, of the association, President Vandenberg, head of the organization and Wm. H. Afton. The need of such a waterway was insisted upon by every speaker. The question of transportation, it was declared, is one of the most serious questions that this country has to deal with.

Mr. Afton's insistence that the deep waterway and the conservation of natural resources were related subjects, which called for immediate action, elicited loud applause. His statement that the waterway was not a project but a policy found a ready response in the cheers of his auditors.

If there had been any doubt as to the need of a Lake-to-the-Gulf waterway among the thousands of delegates and visitors gathered from all parts of the country, they were dispelled when Mr. Afton said: "We find that during the ten years ending with 1905 the internal commerce of our country increased 118 per cent., while railroads transportation facilities during the same time only increased 5 per cent. It has been pointed out that to supply this deficiency by the construction of additional railroads and necessary terminals would require a capital investment of $5,000,000,000, and the construction when completed would make no provision for further increases of our commerce."

The only solution of this problem, the speaker found in deep waterways. The convention opened at noon with a prayer by Bishop Samuel Fallows, of Chicago. Wm. K. Vandenberg, president of the association, then delivered his annual address and Wm. F. Saunders, secretary presented his report.

In the afternoon four special trains carried the visitors on a tour of inspection of the Chicago drainage canal, the stupendous work instituted by the citizens to dispose of Chicago's sewage, and which some day the delegates hope will form part of a deep channel to the Gulf of Mexico from Lake Michigan.

To-day there will be two sessions of the convention. At the forenoon session, W. J. Bryan will make an address.

STRANGE SHIPPING DISASTER.

The steamer Oceana, owned by Messrs. Watkins, London, in charge of Capt. Picardo, put into Londonderry recently, and reports having had to abandon a huge elevator in the North Atlantic, 100 miles off Tory Island. The Oceana left Barrow with the elevator consigned to Montreal in tow, and experienced terrific weather. Three men stationed on the elevator were washed off, but were rescued with great difficulty in mountainous seas by the Oceana's crew. The hawseers then parted. The safety of the Oceana was endangered, and the elevator had to be abandoned.

PRESIDENT ARRIVES.

Brings Number of Passengers Who Are Bound for Australia.

Steamer President arrived in port last evening carrying a good cargo and a fairly large passenger list. Among the passengers were a number of people from San Francisco, who are going to Australia on the Maracaibo. The freight is of a mixed character, most of it for local merchants, but including shipments for the up island towns as far north as Cumberland.

A cable from Yokohama advises that the steamer Kaga Maru left Yokohama on the 2nd inst. with four passengers for this port and 18 tons of freight. She is due to arrive here on the 16th.

ITINERARY OF NEW PRINCESS

SAILS FOR VICTORIA EARLY NEXT MONTH

Will Reach Here Before Christ- mas Day—More Full Speed Trials.

(Special to the Times).
Glasgow, Oct. 8.—The S.S. Princess Charlotte, which has been built by the Fairfield Shipbuilding and Engineering Company, Ltd., Glasgow, for the C. P. R. service between Victoria, B. C., and Seattle, Wash., is fast approaching completion, hardly anything remaining to be done except the fitting touches, and another trial or two at full speed.

The Princess Charlotte, under the command of Capt. C. Troop, will leave for Victoria about the 1st of November, via the Straits of Magellan. She will call at the ports of Tenerife, Monte Video, Coronel and Callao, making the final run direct from the last named port to Victoria, where she is due about December 20th, so that her crew will eat their Christmas dinner in port.

CAMOSUN FOR NORTH.

Steamer Not Coming to Victoria This Trip.

SIR CHARLES VIEW.
(Hamilton Times).
About a year ago Sir Charles Tupper expressed his views in the Vancouver News-Advertiser as to Asiatic exclusion. He emphatically declared: "There should be no objection to strong, healthy, white men coming into this country, whether they be Chinese or Japanese." Will Mr. Tupper open fire on Sir Charles Tupper?

MANY CHINESE ARE RETURNING HOME

Six Hundred Leave on Empress of Japan, Which Sailed Last Night.

There are more Chinese leaving Canada these days than coming into the country. Some of these go home with the intention of returning, but there is always a modicum that go to spend the remainder of their days in their native land. This was exemplified very clearly last night when the steamer Empress of Japan left this port carrying six hundred Orientals, bound for Canton, Hongkong and the surrounding country.

The Empress also carried a large number of saloon passengers, among them being a number of distinguished persons. The list includes Lord and Lady Mostyn, Hon. E. Mostyn, Miss Crockett, Miss Boardman, Miss Boardman and Miss Violet Boardman.

BY TEHUANTEPEC ROUTE.

Round-the-World Ships Make Low Bid in Order to Get Trade.

With the view of capturing a big share of the business, the steamship companies operating around the world by way of the Tehuantepec railroad have quoted exceptionally low tariff charges on both the in and outward trips. In some instances their freight rate is cheaper than demanded by the transcontinental railroads for hauling goods from Portland to New York. The first European shipment to be headed for Portland since the extension of the steamship service out of Pacific coast ports was put into effect is expected to reach here in about two weeks. It is being sent to Puerto, Mexico, and from there will be forwarded to Portland over the Isthmian railroad and American-Hawaiian steamships. Puerto is the terminus of the Tehuantepec railroad.

NEW METHOD OF LIFE SAVING.

A revolution in the methods of rescuing from drowning is set forth in a forcible manner by Woods Hutchinson, A.M., D.D., in Colliers.

A few years ago a scientific commission was appointed by the English government, headed by Professor Schaefer of Edinburgh, for the purpose of determining the best method of resuscitating those apparently drowned. The first thing that confronted this body was the fact that we were entirely ignorant as to exactly how death by drowning was caused. The commission proceeded to determine this fact.

After reviewing the several species of treatment recommended by experts and pointing out their defects, Dr. Hutchinson outlines a plan, the working of which has demonstrated that individuals can be kept for hours without making the slightest effort at breathing.

Dr. Hutchinson writes: "After many trials a method was hit upon which avoids all the dangers of the old methods and is a strictly effective, that perfectly healthy individuals submitting themselves to it can be kept comfortable for not merely minutes but hours at a time, without having to make the slightest voluntary effort of their own at breathing."

Professor Zuntz, who eagerly submitted himself to a series of experiments at the last congress of German Physiologists, denounced, with mock solemnity, the use of the method as subversive of good morals, because it makes it possible for the individual who is literally too lazy to breathe to go on living. The method, fortunately, is simplicity itself, and very easily carried out.

"The individual whom it is desired to resuscitate is promptly, and without a moment's delay in either loosening clothing, drying, warming, or shaking the water out of the lungs, turned upon his back, the face, nose and mouth are clear of the ground. Then the operator kneels, either by the side of or astride of the patient's hips, facing toward his head, places both outspread hands upon the small of the back, just over the shoulders forward so as to bring the whole weight heavily upon the body of the victim. This downward pressure should take about three seconds. He then swings upward, lifting his hands off suddenly and quickly. The elasticity of the ribs and of the contents of the abdomen cause the chest to expand."

"In three seconds, more the process is repeated, and so on, indefinitely, making ten or twelve of these movements per minute. The position allows the tongue to fall forward, and any mucus or water which may be present in the lungs to be simply swung backward and forward, throwing the weight of his body upon the waist line of the victim, any operator of modern intelligence and of most moderate strength, even a delicate woman or child, can gain a sufficient inflow of air, flowing in and out through the lungs of the patient, to supply him with as much air as would be taken in if he were able to breathe voluntarily. Promptness in beginning the pumping operation is imperative. Professor Schaefer's experiments proved that conclusively.

MEMORIES OF SARASATE.

GREAT VIOLINIST

Man Who Would Not Play Without Mascot—Secret of His Success.

The death occurred recently at the Villa Navarra, Biarritz, of Senor Pablo Sarasate, the famous violinist. Born at Pampeluna, the old capital of Navarra, March 10th, 1844, Sarasate was said to know more at the age of 10 than his local masters. Thus early his fame reached the Court at Madrid, and he was invited to play before Queen Isabella. Her Majesty was so charmed that she gave to the little fellow, who shyly stood before her with his wealth of black hair and piercing black eyes, a Stradivari violin dated 1724. This fine instrument, on which he frequently played in public, is valued at $5,000, but is not likely to come into the market, as with his death it reverts to the state.

He entered the Paris Conservatoire on January 1st, 1858, and the following year gained the first prize for solfège and the violin. Becoming the favorite pupil of the great Alard he played at a concert in such magnificent style that his grateful master rewarded him with a box of toy soldiers. In later years kings and princes showered gifts upon him, but he always said he would give them all rather than Alard's toys, which cheered him while he had yet to fight for fame.

His first visit to England was at the age of 17, when, in 1861, the year of Patti's debut at Covent Garden, he played at the old St. James' hall, on May 2nd. Other visits followed, and though he never mastered the English language, he soon had a great following in London, among his closest

TRANSVAAL INDIANS.

The Imperial Government's Attitude Has Not Been Changed.

As the result of inquiry in official quarters regarding the recrudescence of Indian agitation and the present position of the Imperial and Transvaal governments in relation thereto, Reuters agency learns that the Transvaal government was informed that the new Asiatic Act would be allowed to come into force. The views of the Imperial government have altered in no way whatever, and it would be a mistake to suppose that the continual exchange of correspondence implies any new development or any change of Imperial policy, for the British government cannot oppose a settled determination of all parties in the Transvaal in favor of the exclusion of future Asiatic immigrants. It is added that the new act does not affect the general principle of exclusion

HOW TOLSTOI LIVES.

The idea that the great Russian novelist, who recently celebrated his 60th birthday, still works as a peasant is quite erroneous. It is many years since he made boots as an indoor occupation, and it is also at least fifteen years since he did much ploughing or outdoor agricultural work. There was a time, however, lasting for more than ten years, when he devoted the greater part of each summer to doing field work such as the peasants do. One year he saved a poor peasant woman from distress by doing for her the work she would otherwise have had to hire a man to do. He also endeavored to give his servants as little trouble as possible, and does as much as he can for himself. Tolstoi owns no property, having transferred it all to his wife and children. His wife, of course, gives him what he wants, but he tries to want as little as possible. In dress, in food, and in all other respects he aims at simplicity.

H. H. SHANDLEY AND MISS WATKINS WED

Pretty Home Wedding at Residence of the Bride's Mother.

A pretty home wedding took place at eight o'clock last evening at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. H. Watkins, 528 Cormorant street, when her daughter, Miss Elizabeth, was married to Mr. Herbert H. Shandley, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. E. Holling. Miss Goodacre played the wedding march.

The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Shandley, wore a handsome blue cloth travelling suit with hat to match. She was assisted by her friend, Miss Blanche Richards, in a very pretty white gown, while the groom was supported by Mr. R. C. Lowe.

The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful diamond ring, to the bridesmaids a diamond and ruby brooch, and to the best man a pearl and diamond pin.

Some few days before her wedding the bride was the recipient of a linen shower, given by her friend Miss Richards, and a kitchen shower, given by Miss Goodacre. Many very beautiful gifts, more especially of cut glass and silver, were received by the bride from old family friends, although the wedding was an extremely quiet one, only the relations and a very few friends being present.

The drawing-room had been prettily decorated by the bride's girl friends, and the ceremony took place beneath a large bell composed of ivy and white flowers. In the supper rooms the decorations were chiefly white and green and were most effective.

Mr. and Mrs. Shandley left on the C. P. R. boat at midnight en route for an extensive trip to Winnipeg, Montreal, New York, Philadelphia and other eastern cities. They go via C. P. R. and return by the American route. On their return they will take up their residence in their pretty new home on Fairfield road.

McGINNIS

A Bed-time Story for the Babies by Marguerite Evans.

Miss Nora Lad, a fluffy white poodle called—what do you think? McGinnis. Now, wasn't that a funny name for a dog? But then you see Aunt Nora was Irish, and she said it took her good to say McGinnis—it took her right back to the "owid country."

Well, she nursed McGinnis so much and carried him so much that he got to be very lazy and very fat, and whenever he went out walking with Miss Nora he just simply wouldn't walk at all but cried in his poodle fashion to be carried, and Miss Nora would call him a "naughty-lazy McGinnis" and slap his head on her arm and blink at her with his saucy eyes till Miss Nora had to laugh.

But one day something happened, and what do you suppose it was? Well, McGinnis came running up to Miss Nora as she sat by the grate in the dining-room, but just as he was about to spring up on her lap she slapped him; yes, slapped him real hard, and said: "Stay back you nasty little dog or you'll hurt the baby."

Poor McGinnis didn't know what to think for he had never heard of a baby before, you see, but he saw that Miss Nora had something dressed up like a little white cloth, lying in her lap, and he thought it was some other sort of dog and commenced to cry in his poodle dog way, and pull at the white clothes with his paws and teeth, but Miss Nora called him a "nasty little beast" and shoved him away with her foot. Now, don't you think that was too bad?

Then the baby began to cry and such a fuss as there was. Miss Nora hushed it in her arms, and called it far nicer names than she had ever called McGinnis, and a nurse with a white cap on her head and a big white apron came running into the room and wanted to take the baby, but Miss Nora said, "No, you take that little wretch of a dog outside and shut him up till he learns he's only a dog."

So poor McGinnis was taken out to the kennel and nobody remembered to take him anything to eat for ever so long.

The days and weeks went by, and poor McGinnis began to learn what it was to be only a dog, which was, after all, a good thing for him, because he was only a dog, you see, and after he stopped trying to get up in Miss Nora's lap any more, she let him come with her to the nursery sometimes and watch the baby while it was having its bath, and McGinnis thought it great fun, until one day when Miss Nora wasn't looking for a minute he jumped into the bath tub and upset it. Then there was a fuss, you may be sure, and McGinnis was sent away out into the garden in the sun where he licked himself dry.

One day, though, when the nurse had gone to lunch, and the baby was sleeping so soundly that Miss Nora thought it was safe to run down stairs for just a minute to see a caller, McGinnis was left in charge of the baby, which was lying in a splendid basket, all blue muslin and white ribbons which McGinnis had heard them call a cradle.

No sooner had Miss Nora gone than the baby woke up and began to cry. McGinnis knew something was wrong. He put his forepaws on the edge of the cradle and looked at the baby, but it only cried all the louder. What was to be done? McGinnis didn't like the baby, but he felt he oughtn't to cry all by himself like that. The nursery door was shut or McGinnis would have run down stairs and barked, as it was, he scratched at the door with his paws and barked and made such a dreadful noise, that Miss Nora, and the nurse both came running up stairs. Then, what do you think happened? Why, Miss Nora let the nurse hold the baby and she took McGinnis up in her arms and called him a "dear good doggie."

In this age of agitation for purp, clean foods, it is refreshing to know that "Salada" Tea is sold to the public in all its native freshness and fragrance, preserved in sealed air-tight packets direct from the gardens to the consumer, insuring a cup of tea "in perfection" hitherto unknown.

OWES CURE TO ZAM-BUK

PROMINENT MANAGER'S TELLING TESTIMONY.

Mr. D. R. Gourlay, advertising manager for the well-known piano firm of Gourlay, Winter & Leeming, Toronto and Winnipeg, is amongst the prominent men and women who testify to Zam-Buk's great curative power. He writes to the Company as follows: "Gentlemen—I have pleasure in stating that upon the recommendation of a relative I purchased a box of your remedy (Zam-Buk), and by a few applications entirely cured a very severe sprain of the back. While not given to indiscriminate use of, or belief in, patent medicines, I can conscientiously recommend Zam-Buk."

(Signed) D. R. Gourlay.

That is just where Zam-Buk proves its superiority! It is treated by men and women who have tried it, as altogether different to ordinary preparations. Doctors, hospital nurses, trainers, matrons of convalescent homes—all give Zam-Buk a good word, and better still they use it. Zam-Buk is as good for muscular stiffness, sprains, rheumatism and sciatica as it is for skin troubles. Hockey players and athletes in general find it invaluable. For eruptions, pustules, scalp sores, itchy, eczema, ulcers, boils, abscesses, blood poison, cuts, burns, bruises, and abrasions, it is a speedy cure. Takes the soreness out of wounds almost instantly, and kills all disease germs, thus preventing festering and inflammation. All druggists and stores sell at 50c a box, or post free from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto for price, 6 boxes for $2.50. Send in stamp for trial box.

In a single minute a machine which cuts up wood to make matches will turn out 30,000 "splints," as they are called.

PREMIER LAYS CORNER STONE

IMPOSING CEREMONY AT UNIVERSITY SCHOOL

Addresses Delivered Amid Enthusiasm Before Large Gathering.

The corner stone of the new university school was laid yesterday afternoon by Hon. Richard McBride with due ceremony attaching to so important an educational matter. There was a large attendance present composed of those who are interested in educational matters, and several addresses appropriate to the occasion were delivered. The setting for the picture was provided by the gowns of the many ladies who attended and by the uniforms of the university cadets corps which was drawn up to receive the premier. Premier McBride was accompanied by Mrs. McBride and there were present among other Hon. Dr. Young, minister of education, Capt. H. J. Rous Cullen, bursar of the school, trustees Jay, Hiddell, Stansfeld, Christie, and McNeill of the city school board and Superintendent Paul.

The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Mr. Bolton M.A. and a brief prayer for the future of the university school was spoken. The corner stone bore the following inscription:

This Foundation Stone Was Laid by The Hon. Richard McBride, Premier of British Columbia, October 7th, 1908.

Founders: Rev. W. W. Bolton, M.A., J. C. Barnacle, Esq., R. V. Harvey, M.A., "Well and Truly Laid."

University school which was founded by Rev. W. W. Bolton has been doing a splendid work for education in this city. Its success has been such that it has been able to secure from time to time. The construction of the new school will be a decided advantage. With fifteen acres of land at the disposal of the school, the best of questions will be provided. The premier in laying the stone said, "It was a kind act asking me to perform this ceremony. If the glorious weather we are now enjoying can be taken as an omen of the future prosperity of the school then truly we must at once conclude that success has already been achieved. There has been during the past years under the direction of Rev. Mr. Bolton, a growing up in Victoria an institution of which the citizens of this city, and indeed of the province at large, may well be proud. There are other institutions such as the public schools which have been doing a great work in the education of the young, but Rev. Mr. Bolton and his associates have also done their share in the upbuilding of the country's youth and to their every credit must be given."

He trusted that the parents of boys who are being sent to the mainland to school would appreciate the fact of the school now being established in this city and give it the hearty support for the future. He congratulated those who had been the means of bringing the work to finality and spoke shortly on the architectural beauties and the excellence of the location of the new school.

Dr. Young coupled his congratulations to those of the premier, "It has been my good fortune," he said, "to keep close account, during the past two years, of educational matters not only in this province, but throughout the Dominion, and with all due respect to the other provinces, I am assured that right here in British Columbia no better system of education, or one which showed better results, could be found. Indeed, British Columbia could be rightly termed the banner province in matters educational. The University School will do credit to British Columbia, to the whole Dominion, and will compare favorably with the great schools of the Mother Land, and more so when the high standing of the gentlemen in whose hands the conduct of the institution is placed, is considered. "A glance at the curriculum of the school clearly shows the splendid conception which these men have, how splendidly broad in their work, how thorough. In the past two years British Columbia students have taken the highest honors in the McGill matriculation examinations, capturing the Governor-General's silver medal in both years. Out of a total of eighty-eight successful students in that examination for the year 1907-1908, no less than sixty-seven were from this province, and of these forty-two were Victoria students. Last year there were about 250 British Columbia students taking university courses. Of these forty-six were at McGill, fifty-six at the University of Toronto, eighty at the Royal Institution of Learning at Vancouver, and about seventy here."

"It is to me a matter of great congratulation that in a province so sparsely settled as this there should be so many students fitting themselves for a university career."

Dr. Young then added some words of praise for Rev. Mr. Bolton, Mr. Barnacle and Mr. Harvey, the former warden and the latter principals of the new school. Dr. Young expressed his belief that under their capable direction the university school would become in every way an institution in which educational work would have the greatest confidence. Rev. Mr. Bolton thanked the speakers on behalf of himself and his colleagues and asked that Cadet D. Thompson be permitted to present Mrs. McBride with a token on behalf of the boys. The presentation of a beautiful bouquet knotted with the red and black colors of the school to Mrs. McBride followed.

Rev. Mr. Bolton then extended his thanks to those who had attended the ceremony and referred to the time twenty years ago when he had attended the interest of the local people in the erection of a university school. That time was against it but it had now been realized. He thanked those who had worked towards the completion of the work.

After the ceremony took place in a marquee erected for the purpose. The refreshments were provided by Mrs. Clay, who has won enviable reputation in such matters.

LONGBOAT TO QUIT

LONG-DISTANCE RUNNING

Indian Athlete Suffers From Heart Trouble—His Last Three Marathons.

Toronto, Oct. 7.—The career of Tom Longboat as a Marathon runner is about at an end. Dr. Wilson has informed him that he must stop running long distances owing to an affection of the heart. It has therefore been decided that this fall shall see the end of the Marathon career of the greatest distance runner who ever appeared before the public. Longboat will run in the Ward, Hamilton Herald and Montreal Star Marathons, which latter will be his last. The trouble from which he is suffering is the outcome of his numerous races over great distances of ground.
Dr. Wilson contends that two or three long races are all that a man should undertake, whereas Longboat has run
in and won about fifteen.
It will not be necessary for the Indian to forsake the cinder path altogether, and he will continue to run three and five mile races if his condition grows no worse. His physician says that he will enjoy a full measure of health if he takes care of himself and runs no more long races, his afflic-tion not being at all serious in its present stage. Tom wants to win the three Marathons this fall as a fitting close to his campaign in long races. At a meeting of the Irish-Canadian Athletic Club it was decided to see that the great runner is not neglected when he quits racing.

WORK ON TELEPHONE

LINE CONTINUES

South Pender Now Connected With Pender Island—Wire
to Be Extended.

(Special Correspondence).
Pender Island, Oct. 7.—The completion of the telephone line, which will now connect South Pender with Pender Island, is a source of satisfaction as another step forward. The work has been under the supervision of Allan Porter, who left Yesterday to extend the line to Mayne Island, and which will give the latter connection with Salt Springs and Victoria. The efforts of Ralph Smith in obtaining an appropriation last session for the purpose of extending the telephone among the yesterday.

Farmers have been favored with good weather for harvesting.

MILLER SELECTED TO SUCCEED ARUNDEL

Car Service Agent of C. P. R. to Be Superintendent at Vancouver.

Vancouver, Oct. 7.—It is authoritatively stated that W. O. Miller, who for many years has been car service agent of the C. P. R. at Vancouver, will succeed J. T. Arundel as superintendent in the company's service at this point.
Mr. Arundel came West from Winnipeg about a year ago to take over the duties of superintendent, and following his promotion, necessitating his removal from the city, Mr. Miller has been given the office. The appointee is very well known in Vancouver, having come to the coast about 21 years ago, and has been perhaps the longest in the service in this city of any of the C. P. R. employees.

WILL EXHIBIT FRUIT.

Shipment to Be Forwarded to Towns in Middle West.

Vancouver, Oct. 7.—W. J. Brandith, secretary of the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, has left for Okanagan Landing, Vernon and Sicamoun, acting under instructions from the deputy minister of agriculture, to pack a carload of British Columbia fruit for the various exhibits to be made under authority of the provincial government in the Middle West. This will be the first complete carload selected, packed and shipped for exhibition purposes, ever sent out by the government, and will comprise the several varieties of fruit characteristically the products of the interior.
When the work of packing is completed Mr. Brandith will proceed with the car as far as Edmonton, where he will conduct the exhibit. The Edmonton show will last from October 12th to 15th.

After completing the Edmonton exhibit Mr. Brandith will return, leaving the display in the hands of others,
to be placed in evidence along the line of the C. P. R. and at other exhibition points.

TIMBER COMPANY IS

SUING FOR DAMAGES

Canadian Pacific Lumber Company Defendant in Action
for $28,968.

Vancouver, Oct. 7.—A suit for $28,- 968.51 damages was commenced in the Supreme court before Justice Clement yesterday afternoon. The plaintiffs are W. J. and T. F. Paterson, of the Paterson Timber Co., and the defendant is the Canadian Pacific Lumber Co., of Port Moody. Joseph Martin, K. C., and C. W. Craig are appearing for the plaintiffs, while the company is represented by E. P. Davis, K. C., Sly Charles Hubert Tupper, K. C., and Martin Griffin.

The case arises over a contract entered into between the plaintiffs and the defendant company in January, 1907, by which the plaintiffs being loggers agreed to supply the sawmill company with the output of logs from the four camps they were operating.

Uncommon Curtain Materials

COME IN AND SEE OUR PRESENT OFFERINGS

Nowhere else in the city can you find a Curtain or Curtain Material Display that makes any pretence at equalling this showing of ours. Such attractive designs are not seen elsewhere, and such a wide choice is only offered by this house. We are indeed proud of this season's offerings. You're invited to come and spend some time in looking. If you delight in a daintily furnished home, you'll find much to interest you on this Second Floor of ours. Our salesmen are proud of their offerings, and they'll be pleased to show you many new ideas. Coming in to-day!

CABLE LACE CURTAINS—Here is one of the best wearing Curtains manufactured. This famous Cable Net will outlive almost any other curtain style. A special weave makes a strong, staunch, wear-resisting mesh that will stand lots of washing and general hard usage. We show some genuinely handsome designs in Ecru and White. You'll be surprised at what an amount of style we can offer you at home, at these low prices of, per pair, $4.75, $4.00, $3.75, $3.50, $3.00 and.....$2.00

NOVELTY BRAIDED CURTAINS—This is a "new thing" in Curtains and a style we think you'll like very much. The designs are uncommonly dainty and pleasing. We have them in Arab and white and offer you very special value at, per pair.....$5.00

SWISS MUSLIN, in white and ecru.
Pretty coin spot, spring and bow knot designs. Low priced, at, per yard, 25c and.....30c
SWISS MUSLIN—In the colored muslins we show a great variety of patterns and at a popular price. See these, at, per yard, 35c and.....30c
WHITE GRENADINE—A light
dainty muslin with scalloped border, suitable for sash and other curtains. Price, per yard.....30c

SCOTCH MADRAS MUSLINS—
We have this popular material in cream shade, many pretty designs, ranging in price from, per yard, 35c to.....40c
TASSELLED MADRAS MUSLIN—
This is a popular curtain material and has much to commend it, 45 inches wide, at, per yard.....40c

COLORED MADRAS MUSLIN—
This is an especially attractive line and a very popular one. The stained glass window effect pleases. Per yard.....75c
COLORED MADRAS MUSLIN—
We have an excellent assortment of colored Madras muslins. A wide range of designs and colorings, at, per yard.....30c

BRITISH CHINTZ—A very pretty and so-called Chintz with artistic designs, in various colorings, on a jasper ground. This particular ground has a softening influence on the whole effect. It makes it less liable to soil, yet does not detract from the daintiness. Price, per yard.....40c

BRITISH CRETONNE—In floral and conventional designs, that are bright and cheerful. We show a splendid range. Priced at, per yard, 35c, 30c and.....25c
SCOTCH—This is an excellent hard-wearing material. A drawn work effect that is pleasing, 45 inches wide. Excellent value, at, per yard.....75c

The logs were to be supplied at $12 per thousand for cedar and fir, and $8 per thousand for hemlock, though there was 'provision that should the price of lumber drop or the markets fall the defendants might cancel the contract by giving due notice. In October of that year the defendants failed to take delivery of the logs sent down, and the plaintiffs then gave notice that they would sell them for what they could get and hold the Pacific Lumber Company responsible for any loss below their contract price. There was a heavy loss in the sale, which is included in the bill for damages which further includes the cost of logs lying in the water ready for shipment at the time the defendants refused to take delivery, the amount approximating $23,000 altogether.
The defendants for their part allege that the plaintiffs abandoned their contract when they became incorporated in the Paterson Timber Company, since the contract was not subject to assignment. It had also been agreed that immediately after the contract was entered into, the plaintiffs were to commence monthly delivery of a certain number of logs and they failed to do so, this occasioning great loss to the defendants. It had also been agreed that they were to have the total output of two camps efficiently worked, but that when two of the camps had been abandoned the plaintiffs sold logs from the remaining two camps to other companies than theirs.
Further than that, the timber supplied was not of the sizes that had been agreed upon, thereby occasioning great loss in sawing. They further allege that they gave notice of the cancellation of the contract for three reasons some months ago.
Stains of human blood can now be distinguished from animal blood, a great aid in murder trials.

FARM BUILDING GOES.

Farmer Loses Barn, Hay and Machinery by Fire.

New Westminster, Oct. 7.—Randolph
May, a farmer who owns a large farm on Lulu Island and operates several other places as tenant, on Monday night suffered a heavy loss through the destruction by fire of the large barn on a farm occupied by him on No. 20 road.

Within an hour the large building,
filled with farm products and machinery, was totally destroyed. The attention of the volunteer force was first directed to the saving of the live stock, and all the horses and cattle were taken out before the fire reached their quarters, though a large flock of poultry was destroyed by the flames.
Stored in the barn were 150 tons of
hay. The loss is stated to be about $50,000, with partial insurance.
